37 Men Depart For Armed Forces

The largest group of men drafted from Pickaway County in recent years departed Circleville early today for active duty with the Armed Forces.

Thirty-seven men reported for induction after a February draft call of 46 was ordered by the State Selective Service office. Nine of the men originally scheduled to be drafted experienced changes in their status and two enlisted in other military branches.

In addition to today's draftees, the Courthouse area swarmed with friends and relatives of the servicemen-to-be.

Red Cross volunteers were on hand to serve coffee and donuts when the men arrived at the Selective Service office between 6 and 6:30 a. m.

REPORTING for induction were Ronald L. Hawkes, 357 E. Mound St.; William D. Weaver, Tarleton; Oscar H. Bradley Jr., 304 E. Main St.; Howard E. Morris, Atlanta; Ted W. Harber, Route 1; Richard L. Fishing Worm Prices Skyrocket in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — There's a shortage of earthworms in Tokyo. Spreading urbanization is responsible, bait shop owners say.

Anglers are lamenting the fact that a thimble of earthworms for bait now costs about 14 cents — 10 times the price of 10 years ago.

Road Building Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department reported today that more than half of the 41,000-mile interstate highway system is now open to traffic.

Inflationary Trend Studied

Administration's Strategy Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Front-rank economists debate today whether inflation can be headed off with the weapons President Johnson is using—short-term tax boosts and the voluntary wage-price guidelines.

Critics and defenders of administration policy were to be heard at an all-day "National Symposium on Inflation, Guideposts and Economic Policy," sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The inflation problem was spotlighted anew with the official announcement Tuesday that unemployment in January dropped to a nine-year low of 4 per cent. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz predicted it will dip to 3½ per cent this year.

The increasing difficulty of maintaining price-wage stability as the economy nears full employment has been acknowledged by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The council has insisted, however, that recent living-cost increases are not inflationary.

Economist Otto Eckstein, who retired from the President's council last week to return to Harvard University, was expected to argue that viewpoint as a member of today's panel.

Administration spokesmen have contended that the President's stop-gap tax program, which Congress is considering, will offset the inflationary impact of stepped-up military spending this year.

The fiscal 1967 budget, they point out, will have so small a deficit — $1.8 billion — as to be approximately neutral in economic impact.

Hike in Military Pay Is Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, says he will fight any attempt to boost pay for government workers without including the military.

"If we are to have guns and butter for every American citizen," the South Carolina Democrat said, "I see no reason why our fighting men in Viet Nam must accept guns and yet have denied to them... their share of the butter." He said he would introduce a bill to try to include the military in any pay boost.

'Cotton King,' Federal Aide, Dies at 86

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — At an age when most men are looking forward to retirement, Will Clayton resigned as head of the world's largest cotton business and went into government service.

William Lockhart Clayton was a multimillionaire and known as "King Cotton Himself," when he joined the New Deal in 1940 at the age of 60.

In 1944 he became assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. He developed the concept of the Marshall Plan for European recovery after World War II and administered the program.

Clayton, who proved himself adept in the fields of economics, politics and national affairs, as well as cotton, died in a Houston hospital Tuesday after suffering a heart attack at his home. He was 86.

Only last Thursday he returned to Houston from a four-day trip to New York for meetings with the Atlantic Council, and to Washington, where he met with members of the U. S. Citizens' Commission on NATO, of which he was one of the original cochairmen.

Ohio Farm Bureau OKs Dirksen Apportionment

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio farm Bureau Federation will urge passage of the Dirksen amendment on reapportionment of state legislatures as part of its 1966 action program, says Executive Vice President D. R. Stanfield.

Stanfield told a Northeast Regional leadership conference here Tuesday that federation spokesmen from 20 districts will go to Washington March 14-16 to confer with Ohio members of Congress on farm issues.

Host Firms Hear Data on BIE Day

Important steps leading to next month's Business - Industry - Education program were taken during an early morning session at Nicholas Drive School.

Approximately 36 community business, industry and professional firms were represented at the 7:30 a. m. meeting. The objective was to lay groundwork for essential details that will be required to make the Mar. 29 event a success.

The session also served as an initial orientation for participating firms and a rundown on what the program will entail. Guiding the project again this year will be the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Education Committee.

The 1966 program, the third in a three-year cycle, will center on area firms hosting city and county high school seniors. The objective, the same as it was the last two years, will be to highlight the American free enterprise system in action.

A GENERAL description of the 1966 program was presented

Humphrey Pledges Aid For South Viet Nam

Jets Step Up Viet Attacks

Both North, South Targets Are Hit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. jet fighter-bombers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam today while the Viet Cong still sidestepped the big Allied ground forces trying to hunt them down.

While the ground war tapered off significantly, the U. S. Military Command announced that the number of Americans killed in combat last week rose by more than 50 per cent. A spokesman said 89 Americans were killed, 499 wounded and eight missing in action compared with 57 Americans killed, 281 wounded and 11 missing in the previous seven days.

In separate sweeps, American and Australian troops stumbled onto Viet Cong caches of rice totaling 335 tons — enough to feed thousands of men for

State TB Subsidy Payments Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Decline in state subsidy payments indicates "substantial gains" in the battle against tuberculosis, State Auditor Roger Cloud said today.

Cloud said his office records show that subsidy payments to tuberculosis hospitals and county commissioner in 19 counties amounted to $610,434 for the current fiscal year to date.

If the rate continues for the balance of the fiscal year, state distributions will be down more than $100,000 from the actual subsidy payments of $1,155,881 during fiscal 1965, Cloud said.

Under existing law, the state is obligated to pay any county, district or municipal tuberculosis facility a per diem allowance of $2.50 per patient.

Johnson Pledges 'We Shall Prevail' On Viet: 'We Shall Prevail'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned today from the Honolulu conference confident "we shall prevail" in the battle against aggression in Viet Nam. He says he will meet again with South Vietnamese leaders "within the next few months."

Declaring he felt "refreshed and confident" from his talks with top Vietnamese officials, Johnson said in a statement during a Los Angeles stopover Tuesday night that they know social and political progress "cannot wait until the guns grow silent and terrorism stops."

During his 105-minute Los Angeles stop, Johnson conferred with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, then wished him Godspeed on a mission to Saigon to spur the political, economic and social programs outlined at Honolulu.

Johnson then headed back to Washington in the presidential jet which had carried him to Hawaii last Saturday. Within two minutes of the President's takeoff, Humphrey was off across the Pacific on his way to Honolulu to join the South Vietnamese leaders for the trip to Saigon. The vice president also plans to visit some additional Asian capitals.

Although the communique emphasized the nonmilitary programs for economic and social improvement, South Viet Nam's leaders made it plain in a news conference that they favored stepped-up air operations against the chief North Viet

Ohio Turnpike Awarded Patrol's Safety Prize

CLEVELAND (AP) — The State Highway Patrol has awarded the Ohio Turnpike Commission a citation for the toll road's outstanding safety record in 1965.

Col. Robert M. Chiaramonte, patrol superintendent, said Tuesday his figures showed the turnpike had only 2.6 deaths per 100 million miles of vehicular travel last year. The statewide death rate was 5, he said.

Veep Is Off On Mission

Economic, Social Reforms Planned

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today pledged "immediate and continuing action" to carry out the aims of the "Declaration of Honolulu" for political, economic and social progress in South Viet Nam.

The vice president made this pledge in a statement prepared for his departure on a 10- to 12-day mission to Viet Nam and possibly five other Asian countries.

His takeoff was scheduled only a few hours after he landed in Hawaii following a Los Angeles airport conference with President Johnson.

The statement stressed the same theme of virtually all the public utterances of Johnson, his top officials, and Vietnamese leaders during the Pacific conference, which ended here Tuesday.

"Our mutual struggle against the terror and tyranny of the aggressor will be matched by a vigorous war against the age-old enemies of disease, hunger, and social and economic deprivation," the vice president said.

Flying from Honolulu with Humphrey were South Viet Nam's top leaders, who gave evidence Tuesday that they wanted a tougher war against Communist North Viet Nam along with the programs to better the life of the people.

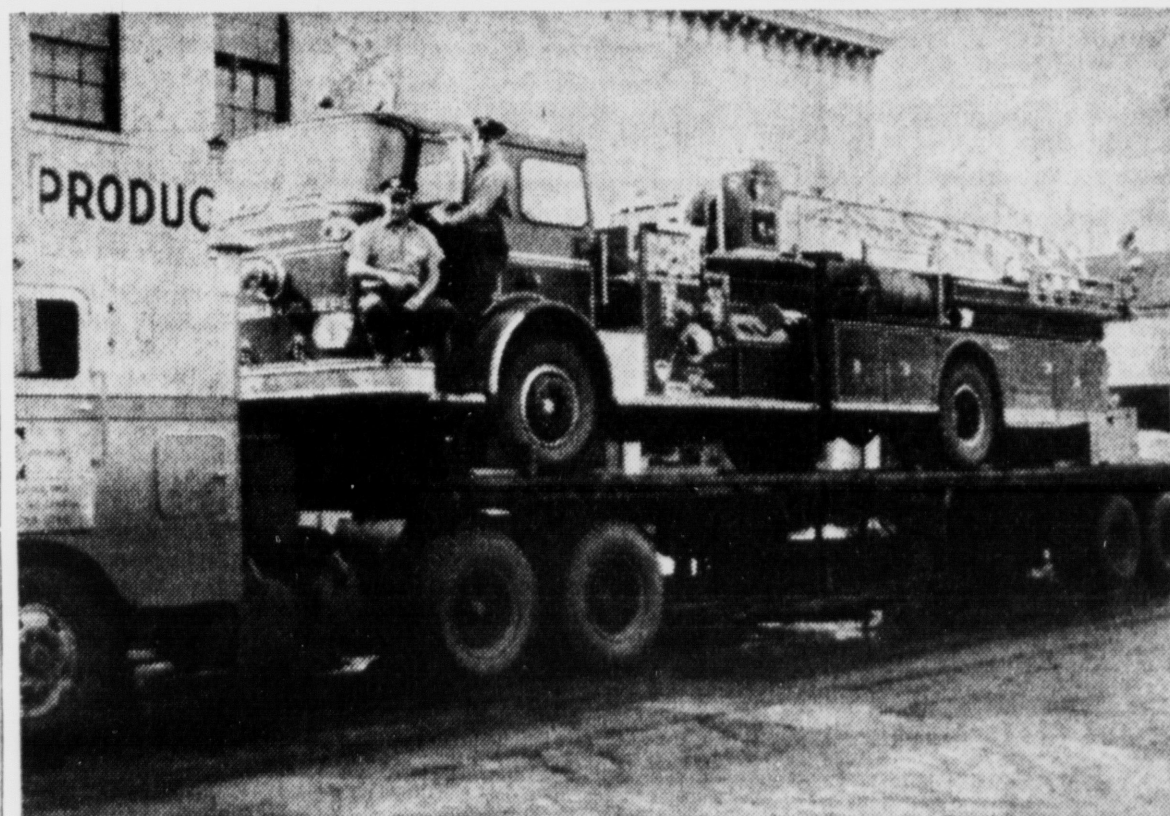

Officials here said they did not yet know Humphrey's next stop after South Viet Nam.

Sources in Washington said Humphrey's tour would include the capitals of Thailand, Malaysia, Australia and India. Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand said the vice

Millersport Youth Admits School Arson

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — A 19-year-old Millersport youth, John E. Kempton Jr., pleaded guilty here Tuesday of setting a $10,000 fire at nearby Millersport High School a week ago.

Charged with burning property to defraud, he was bound over by Municipal Court to a Fairfield County grand jury.

Nation's Teen-agers Spend $15 Billion Every Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — A youth quake is shaking American business with granny dresses, folk-rock records, transistor radios and smell - alike steadies.

With a collective $15 billion a year to spend, the nation's 24 million teen-agers have become the long-haired darlings of businessmen looking for big markets now and more later when the young people begin setting up homes of their own.

From Miami, Fla. to Rolling-

ham, Wash., from Bangor, Maine, to San Diego, Calif., teen-agers dress alike and dance alike.

They also buy alike — with a difference.

Their money doesn't go for rent and taxes, but for snacks, clothes, records, cars, cosmetics, dates, movies, contact lenses, guitars, skindiving equipment and a thousand other items.

"Clothes — that's where all my money goes," says Audrey

Philips, 17, of Harlingen, Texas. "I spend money for food primarily," said Alex Kliros, 16, of Atlanta, a strapping 6-footer. "I also spend it on shooting pool, going to the movies."

Audrey and Alex are two of the scores of teen-agers who were asked in an Associated Press nationwide survey what they do with their money.

Their answers are vital to the growing number of firms re-gearing production lines and sales efforts to the demands of the youth market.

As Bruce A. Gimbel, New York City department store president, put it: "We no longer keep up with the Joneses, we keep up with the young."

One Fifth Avenue department store — Lord & Taylor — reports its teen-age business had grown 200 per cent in the last 10 years, and a store official adds he expects it to grow another 25 per cent a year for the foreseeable future.

A swank Fifth Avenue store

for women — Bergdorf-Goodman — opened a haven for teen-agers this month. Airlines offer them half-rate fares. Auto makers appeal to them with fast-back cars. There are bar mitzvah pilgrimages to Israel, summer skiing tours of Europe and camps for overweight girls or those worried about their social IQ's — "College will be a ball this fall!"

The reasons are obvious.

Teen-aged girls spend $3,825,000,000 a year on clothes and $375 million more on shoes. They plucked the granny dress off the French Riviera and spread it coast to coast last summer, shifting lines throughout the garment industry. Now they are going for granny boots — laced up the front — granny purses and granny spectacles.

The girls spend $470 million a year on cosmetics, and sales of men's toiletries are soaring, spurred by young buyers.

One reason: Instead of just exchanging pins or rings, young couples now wear the same cologne to become smell - alike steadies.

Teen-agers spend nearly $300 million a year on records, accounting for 80 per cent of the single-record sales. They switched from Elvis Presley to the Beatles and Sonny and Cher, and the record companies followed suit.

Sue Miller, 14, Monterey Park, Calif., spends half of her income on records.

"I have all the Beatle albums and the Rolling Stones," said a 16-year-old girl at Douglas Freeman High School in Richmond. "I have 106 albums and a stack of 45s."

Teen-agers listen to the radio an average of 2½ hours a day, and many walk down the street plugged in. Of the girls, 66.4 per cent own portable transistors.

Nearly half of the teen-agers go to the movies at least once a week. An independent movie maker, American-International

Red Viet Note Not Impressive

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian government today chilled hopes that a letter from North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh may have contained the peace talk signal awaited by the Johnson administration.

In the midst of worldwide speculation over the meaning of Ho's Jan. 24 message to Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an official government spokesman said it was "mostly concerned with stating the position of his country."

Except for emphasizing India's special position as chairman of the International Control Commission, the Indo-China peacekeeping agency, Ho did not go beyond previous proclamations from Hanoi, the spokesman said.

Nevertheless, he said, India was continuing its talks with "friendly countries" to find a way to end the fighting.

Reports of the letter caught officials in Washington by surprise Tuesday. A State Department spokesman said the Indians had not apprised the United States of the letter, nor had the text been made available.

Although many U.S. officials suspected the note differed little from others sent to various capitals by the North Vietnamese chief 17 days ago, the possibility of a peace feeler from Hanoi rocked the New York Stock Exchange. Defense issues were hardest hit in the heaviest trading in months.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the letter "could be of great significance. If we respond in the right way, it could be helpful."

There was no comment from the White House. The North Vietnamese Consulate General in New Delhi said Ho wrote Radhakrishnan that India as chairman of the International Control Commission bears a special responsibility for the restoration of peace. But it was apparent that Ho meant peace on his terms.

A spokesman for the consulate general confirmed that the letter to the Indian president was one of several sent out by Ho on Jan. 24 denouncing President Johnson's post-Christmas "peace offensive."

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who also received a letter from Ho, told the House of Commons Tuesday that Canada has been conferring with India and Poland on possible use of the International Control Commission as a possible vehicle for negotiations. They are the three members of the commission.

The International Control Commission was created by the 1954 Geneva Conference which ended French rule in Indochina and created the separate states of North and South Viet Nam.

"We must bring about a true social revolution and construct a modern society in which every man can know that he has a future; that he has respect and dignity; that he has the opportunity for himself and for his children to live in an environment where all is not disappointment, despair and dejection; that the opportunities exist for the full expression of his talents and his hopes."

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, at the earlier news conference, referred to 1967 as "the year we will have free elections" and also when "we will eliminate the influence of the Communists in South Viet Nam."

The United States, for its part, pledged to fight aggression, to support "the principles of the self-determination of peoples and of government by consent of the governed," to work to stamp out hunger, ignorance and disease and stressed that "no path to peace shall be unexplored."

Among the points in the communiqué section were these: —The two governments will "take further concrete steps to combat inflation."

—High priority will be given to an "intensified program of rural construction."

—Efforts will be stepped up to bring agricultural knowhow "to the farmer in the fields" and for "more rapid land reform."

—Programs in health and education would be intensified. —Americans will assist programs to care for refugees including providing schools for refugee children.

Teen-agers, as nearly every father can confirm, are a boon to the automobile business. Of the girls, 2,241,000 drive and a half million own their own cars. The figures are even higher for boys.

A Denver automobile dealer says he is hiring several salesmen barely out of high school because "they speak the same jargon teen-agers do."

Teen-agers are likely to have a big influence on their parents' choice of cars and other items, from bacon to television sets. "I'd been working on daddy for two years for a color TV," said Kathy Hodge, 16, Wichita, Kan. "We got it for Christmas."

Some teen-agers have their own charge accounts. Bobbie West, 17, Tallahassee, Fla., has three accounts in her own name, but she is an exception.

Parents objected when a firm in Austin, Tex. mailed credit cards to high schoolers.

The Denver Retail Merchants Association said several stores reported efforts to encourage individual charge accounts for high school and college students met with failure: the students preferred to use their parents' accounts.

Nearly half of the girls who will be married this year will be teen-agers. One million girls, like President Johnson's daughter Luci, are engaged.

Teen-agers have replaced farmers as the economic backbone of the nation, Helen Nelson, California's consumer counsel, reports.

"It is a sobering thought to consider that the consumer market may be dominated by inexperienced family units," she said, issuing a booklet of advice.

At Westport High in Kansas City, Tom Wray, 17, is the father of a 3-month-old baby. His wife, 18, used to work, but now is home.

The first job assigned him by the President is to familiarize himself with the various economic, social and political improvement projects, to spur the efforts on, and to return to the United States in a position to help nurture the work at the Washington end.

In the other capitals on his itinerary, the vice president will "explain what was done at Honolulu and its meaning and ask for the support of others," Johnson said in Los Angeles.

Social progress for the South Vietnamese people was a refrain repeated with drumbeat regularity and rising intensity during the mid-Pacific conference involving Johnson, key Cabinet officers and aides, and nine of the leaders of South Viet Nam's military government.

Homemaker Faces Many Decisions

EDITOR'S NOTE — The local Extension Service, now settled in new headquarters at 137 W. Franklin St., is observing open house this week to familiarize Pickaway Countians with the new facilities. The story below is one of a series describing the Cooperative Extension operation and services provided.

Today's homemaker faces constant decisions — what to buy and how to stretch the income, care for the children, stretch time and energy, to cover everything that must be done.

She seeks reliable unbiased information to help her with her job. Extension home economists with support from subject matter specialists from the USDA and Ohio State University supply sound facts based on scientific research.

County Extension agents in home economics work with youth and adults, both men and women, answering questions dealing with homemaking. The areas involved are: food and nutrition, textiles and clothing, family and child development, management of time and energy, housing and furnishings.

Physical fitness, an important national goal, depends greatly on good nutrition. Teen-agers — especially girls — have the poorest food habits and the worst nutrition of any family member. Overweight is another problem. Mothers with young children, and older people, eat too few of the foods they need.

Extension home economists give homemakers new ideas for better meals, teach them more about nutrition for young and old and more about planning, buying and preparing food.

Clothing affects the health and efficiency of all the family. It has social and psychological meanings important to the development of individuals. Extension programs in this field include selecting clothing for specific uses, improving personal appearance, managing and maintaining the family's wardrobe, home sewing and understanding fiber characteristics and their uses.

From Extension home economists, homemakers learn about the growth of individuals and their relationships with others. The study the person, the family, and the community. Programs include teaching parents more about children, with emphasis on their developmental needs and tasks in a changing society; family relationships at different times in the life of the family (young couple, parents, aging); and community resources that can help them.

Management education helps the homemaker consider family life as a whole and the ways that family goals can be reached. Through home management education, a homemaker learns to make efficient use of time, energy and money for better living for all the family. The homemaker hopes to create an environment in which she and her family can develop their highest potential. Extension programs teach her the economic and social aspects of housing, how to plan space requirements, how to create home beauty and comfort. She learns how to select durable, labor-saving, and attractive furnishings and equipment at a price that fits the family budget.

In Ohio homemakers are especially fortunate to add to this list of resources in community meals or large group meals.

In all these areas mentioned, the homemaker is challenged with decisions as a consumer. The decisions she must make are new during our lifetime and have daily changing consequences.

Much of the home agent's time is spent helping homemakers understand the information that will help with those decisions. This information helps the homemaker gain more satisfaction and better use from the goods and services she purchases. It also helps her make better use of credit.

Home agents work with boys and girls through 4-H, with brides, young mothers, working homemakers, aging families problems, and others who have questions or problems about their daily occupation — homemaking.

She reaches homemakers through workshops, meetings, discussions at the office or in homes, radio, newspapers, newsletters and home visits.

Stock Prices Still Climbing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its snail-paced march from the Viet Nam "peace scare" and moved ahead vigorously.

Volume during the morning was the heaviest of the week, with 4.54 million shares changing hands.

A wide assortment of large blocks changed hands in a variety of issues.

The aerospace defense stocks recovered, along with electronics and other defense-related issues which were battered during the big selling wave of Tuesday afternoon.

Steels, rails, chemicals, office equipments and airlines made good progress.

The rise in installment credit and the drop in unemployment to the lowest level in nine years were encouraging background factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 367.8 with industrials up 1.5, rails up 1.4 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.51 at 964.54.

Bridge Meeting Slated Tuesday

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners will meet Feb. 15 with representatives from the Norfolk & Western Railroad concerning an overhead bridge improvement on the Circleville-Tarlton Road.

The session will be conducted in the commission office at the Courthouse, starting at 10 a. m.

Members of the commission said they hope the present one-lane traffic span can be replaced. Cost sharing and other construction aspects will be discussed at the Tuesday meeting.

The scheduled meeting here was arranged by County Engineer Henry McCrady.

Two Men Placed On Probation Here

Two men were placed on probation during Tuesday's session of Common Pleas Court. Judge William Ammer presided.

Charles E. Downs, Route 2, Amanda, was handed a three-year probationary sentence after pleading guilty to an unarmed robbery charge. He appeared before the court on a bill of information.

Charles W. Rutter, East St., also received three years probation on a charge of intimidating a witness.

Rutter was indicted by the January term of the Grand Jury and entered a plea of innocent at his arraignment. He changed his plea to guilty earlier this week and was sentenced by Judge Ammer.

In Vientiane, capital of neighboring Laos, a spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry reported North Vietnamese tanks had been seen for the first time on the Ho Chi Minh Trail through eastern Laos, en route to South Viet Nam. Qualified military sources in Saigon, however, were skeptical of the report. They said tanks might be more of a liability than an asset to the Viet Cong.

The Strategic Air Command's eight-engine B52s from Guam joined the air offensive in the past 24 hours, pounding Viet Cong concentrations in Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border and in Phu Yen Province on the central plains, U.S. spokesmen said.

No American planes were reported lost in the double-barreled air action on both sides of the 17th Parallel.

The 7th Fleet carriers Ticonderoga and Ranger sent 17 jet missions against the North. The Navy planes smashed four road and rail bridges and cut several highways in the Dong Hoi and Vinh areas, spokesmen said. Pilots claimed they destroyed the Tam Da highway bridge, where reconnaissance planes spotted heavy southbound traffic during the 37-day bombing pause.

Annual Meet Conducted by Stockholders

Stockholders of The First National Bank conducted their annual organizational meeting yesterday and re-elected its board of directors.

Renamed as chairman of the board and president of the bank was George P. Foresman. Other directors are Ralph Curtin, Herschel Hill, Dwight Steele, Carl C. Leist, John H. Dunlap, R. V. Hamman, Jack Clifton and Kermit Dountz.

Officers reelected, in addition to Foresman, were Roy C. Marshall as vice president; James H. Fausnaugh, who was named vice president of the Williamsport branch; Blenn Bales, vice president of the Commercial Point branch; Miss Ona M. Hurt and Mrs. Evelyn Leist, assistant vice presidents; John E. Fuller, cashier; Karl O. Drum, Mrs. Evelyn Kauffield and Mrs. Ruth Snyder, assistant cashiers.

Other employees of the financial institution are: Robert E. Bauer, installment loan officer; Mrs. Helen M. Sowers, teller; Miss Norma Jean Anderson, bookkeeper; Mrs. Pamela Buskirk, Mrs. Sarah Emerine, Miss Sharon L. Evans, Mrs. Rose E. Henson, Mrs. Margaret Ritchie, Mrs. Marvene E. Rihl, Mrs. Marilyn J. Bowers, all tellers; Miss Myrna J. Gregory, Mrs. Sandra DeWeese, Miss Norma R. Troutman, Mrs. Ellen G. Gayer, Miss Elaine Mosley, Miss Shirley Southward, Miss Amelia Thomas, Mrs. Jean Williams, Miss Diane Reithmiller, all bookkeepers; Miss Carolyn Hall, Miss Karen S. Woltz, David L. Lattimer, tellers; Mrs. Rosemary Dunkel, receptionist; and Louis E. Lockard, custodian.

City Court Docket Lists Two Motorists

Circleville Municipal Court's traffic docket today listed two motorists charged with violations. They were:

Clifford H. Wood, 44, Chillicothe; $33 bond forfeiture for speeding 84 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Phyllis Hines, 34, Ashville; $25 and costs with the fine suspended for failure to notify a property owner following an accident.

Equipment Purchases OK'd By City Board of Education

Circleville Board of Education, experiencing somewhat of a lull in usual hectic school year activity, approved several purchase orders during Tuesday night's regular monthly session.

The board, meeting with Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, also scheduled dates for three upcoming events involving students and teachers.

Taking priority on the purchase list was the final decision on fabric and color of a front curtain for the auditorium of the new high school that will open this fall. Turquoise velvet was the board's final selection.

The board met with some member opposition earlier in attempting to select the drape. Jansen Industries of Canton will tailor and hang the drape.

APPROVAL for the purchase and installation of a public address system at the Atwater building was granted. Costs of the equipment is to be paid by the PTA and installation will be footed by the school board.

New chairs for the cafeteria in the high school are being ordered to replace an obsolete folding type. This is being done in an effort to update the high school building for use by the junior high next year. New desks and chairs for the S. Court St. building were also ordered for next year when Walnut elementary students will attend classes there. Jacobs said the 165 new desks will take the place of desks presently being used by seventh graders. The junior high desks will be moved with the students next year.

The date of Mar. 29 has been slated as Education-Business-Industry Day when seniors will visit local industries. This is the third installment of the program. Last year business and industry representatives visited the schools and two years ago teachers were given an opportunity to visit local business and industry.

The second annual Elementary Music Festival with grades 4-7 participating has been scheduled for 7:30 p. m. on April 29, in the high school gymnasium. The program will be presented under the direction of Clifford Kerns and Paul Dunkle.

Another date set by the board was April 6, for the registration of 1966-67 kindergarten students. Details of the registration program are to be worked out by the superintendent.

More Antipoverty Funds Said Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — More money is needed for the government's antipoverty program, says a congressional report.

The report was compiled at the direction of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee and its special subcommittee on poverty.

Powell told newsmen Tuesday that the study points up some of the shortcomings in the antipoverty program, and shows the urgent need for more cooperation between the federal agencies involved and more money for the various projects.

Wayne Twp. students. Consideration had been given in the past to transporting Wayne Twp. students into Circleville for classes.

Registration from Mrs. Mary Ann Wellington was also read and accepted by the board. Mrs. Wellington had received a year's leave of absence and in the meantime her husband, Robert, accepted a position with a firm in Kansas City, Mo., where they are now residing.

Deaths

MRS. BESSIE DUNLAP Services will be conducted 2 p. m. Friday at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home for Mrs. Bessie Dunlap of Route 2, who died Tuesday.

The Rev. G. H. Niswender will officiate. Burial will be in Springbank Cemetery, Yellow-bud.

Gasoline Causes Hand, Leg Burns

Norman Williams, 28, Williamsport, suffered burns to both hands and his right leg after gasoline exploded while he was working on a car. He received care in the emergency room at Berger Hospital.

Also treated was Ronald Martin, 26, of 403 S. Pickaway St. He slipped and fell through a window at home, lacerating his right wrist.

Both were released following treatment.

Man Serves Dozen 'Extra' Jail Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George Robison, who the 9th District Court of Appeals ruled last week should have gotten out of prison in 1952, went free Tuesday after spending 12 "extra" years in Ohio penitentiary.

Robison of Mount Vernon was accused of breaking into the home of a brother-in-law, where his wife was staying, at Wooster in 1950. He was given a life sentence for burglary — when he had been indicted for breaking and entering at night, which provides for a maximum sentence of two years. Robison, 53, was paroled twice during his term but returned for violations before the appeals court's new order.

DRAFTED MEN LEAVE EARLY TODAY — Thirty-seven registrants of the Pickaway County Selective Service office boarded a special bus about 7 a. m. today for Ft. Hayes, Columbus, where they were to be inducted into the U. S. Army. The February draft call was originally set at 46, but nine men had changes in their status in the past couple of weeks. Pictured here are some of the men as they descended the stairway in the courthouse following roll call.

37 Men Depart For Armed Forces

The largest group of men drafted from Pickaway County in recent years departed Circleville early today for active duty with the Armed Forces.

Thirty-seven men reported for induction after a February draft call of 46 was ordered by the State Selective Service office. Nine of the men originally scheduled to be drafted experienced changes in their status and two enlisted in other military branches.

In addition to today's draftees, the Courthouse area

swarmed with friends and relatives of the servicemen-to-be.

Red Cross volunteers were on hand to serve coffee and donuts when the men arrived at the Selective Service office between 6 and 6:30 a. m.

Inflationary Trend Studied

Administration's Strategy Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Front-rank economists debate today whether inflation can be headed off with the weapons President Johnson is using—short-term tax boosts and the voluntary wage-price guidelines.

Critics and defenders of administration policy were to be heard at an all-day "National Symposium on Inflation, Guideposts and Economic Policy," sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The inflation problem was spotlighted anew with the official announcement Tuesday that unemployment in January dropped to a nine-year low of 4 per cent. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz predicted it will dip to 3½ per cent this year.

The increasing difficulty of maintaining price-wage stability as the economy nears full employment has been acknowledged by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The council has insisted, however, that recent living-cost increases are not inflationary.

Economist Otto Eckstein, who retired from the President's council last week to return to Harvard University, was expected to argue that viewpoint as a member of today's panel.

Administration spokesmen have contended that the President's stop-gap tax program, which Congress is considering, will offset the inflationary impact of stepped-up military spending this year.

The fiscal 1967 budget, they point out, will have so small a deficit — $1.8 billion — as to be approximately neutral in economic impact.

Hike in Military Pay Is Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, says he will fight any attempt to boost pay for government workers without including the military.

"If we are to have guns and butter for every American citizen," the South Carolina Democrat said, "I see no reason why our fighting men in Viet Nam must accept guns and yet have denied to them...their share of the butter." He said he would introduce a bill to try to include the military in any pay boost.

'Cotton King,' Federal Aide, Dies at 86

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — At an age when most men are looking forward to retirement, Will Clayton resigned as head of the world's largest cotton business and went into government service.

William Lockhart Clayton was a multimillionaire and known as "King Cotton Himself," when he joined the New Deal in 1940 at the age of 60.

In 1944 he became assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. He developed the concept of the Marshall Plan for European recovery after World War II and administered the program.

Clayton, who proved himself adept in the fields of economics, politics and national affairs, as well as cotton, died in a Houston hospital Tuesday after suffering a heart attack at his home. He was 86.

Only last Thursday he returned to Houston from a four-day trip to New York for meetings with the Atlantic Council, and to Washington, where he met with members of the U. S. Citizens' Commission on NATO, of which he was one of the original cochairmen.

Ohio Farm Bureau OKs Dirksen Apportionment

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio farm Bureau Federation will urge passage of the Dirksen amendment on reapportionment of state legislatures as part of its 1966 action program, says Executive Vice President D. R. Stanfield.

Stanfield told a Northeast Regional leadership conference here Tuesday that federation spokesmen from 20 districts will go to Washington March 14-16 to confer with Ohio members of Congress on farm issues.

Host Firms Hear Data on BIE Day

Important steps leading to next month's Business - Industry - Education program were taken during an early morning session at Nicholas Drive School.

Approximately 36 community business, industry and professional firms were represented at the 7:30 a. m. meeting. The objective was to lay groundwork for essential details that will be required to make the Mar. 29 event a success.

The session also served as an initial orientation for participating firms and a rundown on what the program will entail. Guiding the project again this year will be the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Education Committee.

The 1966 program, the third in a three-year cycle, will center on area firms hosting city and county high school seniors. The objective, the same as it was the last two years, will be to highlight the American free enterprise system in action.

A GENERAL description of the 1966 program was presented

Jets Step Up Viet Attacks

Both North, South Targets Are Hit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. jet fighter-bombers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam today while the Viet Cong still sidestepped the big Allied ground forces trying to hunt them down.

While the ground war tapered off significantly, the U. S. Military Command announced that the number of Americans killed in combat last week rose by more than 50 per cent. A spokesman said 89 Americans were killed, 499 wounded and eight missing in action compared with 57 Americans killed, 281 wounded and 11 missing in the previous seven days.

In separate sweeps, American and Australian troops stumbled onto Viet Cong caches of rice totaling 335 tons — enough to feed thousands of men for

State TB Subsidy Payments Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Decline in state subsidy payments indicates "substantial gains" in the battle against tuberculosis, State Auditor Roger Cloud said today.

Cloud said his office records show that subsidy payments to tuberculosis hospitals and county commissioner in 19 counties amounted to $610,434 for the current fiscal year to date.

If the rate continues for the balance of the fiscal year, state distributions will be down more than $100,000 from the actual subsidy payments of $1,155,881 during fiscal 1965, Cloud said.

Under existing law, the state is obligated to pay any county, district or municipal tuberculosis facility a per diem allowance of $2.50 per patient.

Johnson Pledges On Viet: 'We Shall Prevail'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned today from the Honolulu conference confident "we shall prevail" in the battle against aggression in Viet Nam. He says he will meet again with South Vietnamese leaders "within the next few months."

Declaring he felt "refreshed and confident" from his talks with top Vietnamese officials, Johnson said in a statement Tuesday night that they know social and political progress "cannot wait until the guns grow silent and terrorism stops."

During his 105-minute Los Angeles stop, Johnson conferred with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, then wished him Godspeed on a mission to Saigon to spur the political, economic and social programs outlined at Honolulu.

Johnson then headed back to Washington in the presidential jet which had carried him to Hawaii last Saturday. Within two minutes of the President's takeoff Humphrey was off across the Pacific on his way to Honolulu to join the South Vietnamese leaders for the trip to Saigon. The vice president also plans to visit some additional Asian capitals.

Although the communique emphasized the nonmilitary programs for economic and social improvement, South Viet Nam's leaders made it plain in a news conference that they favored stepped-up air operations against the chief North Viet-

Ohio Turnpike Awarded Patrol's Safety Prize

CLEVELAND (AP) — The State Highway Patrol has awarded the Ohio Turnpike Commission a citation for the toll road's outstanding safety record in 1965.

by Alden D. Bray, chairman of the Chamber's Education Committee. He and members of his panel commended the excellent turnout of business representatives.

"How-To-Do-It" kits, listing a detailed outline of procedures to follow, were distributed. A schedule of events that will be followed on BIE Day was handed out and explained.

Chairman Bray urged participating firms to prepare an outline of their programs and submit a copy to the Chamber office no later than Mar. 1. He also requested personal invitations be sent by firms to the particular seniors who will be visiting their establishment.

The chairman emphasized the importance of stressing the free enterprise system. He said the program should not be considered just a tour of plants and business facilities.

Another meeting for firms participating has been scheduled for Feb. 28 at Nicholas Drive School, and again on Mar. 22 at the same location. Both sessions will start at 7:30 a. m.

Veep Is Off On Mission

Economic, Social Reforms Planned

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today pledged "immediate and continuing action" to carry out the aims of the "Declaration of Honolulu" for political, economic and social progress in South Viet Nam.

The vice president made this pledge in a statement prepared for his departure on a 10- to 12-day mission to Viet Nam and possibly five other Asian countries.

His takeoff was scheduled only a few hours after he landed in Hawaii following a Los Angeles airport conference with President Johnson.

The statement stressed the same theme of virtually all the public utterances of Johnson, his top officials, and Vietnamese leaders during the Pacific conference, which ended here Tuesday.

"Our mutual struggle against the terror and tyranny of the aggressor will be matched by a vigorous war against the age-old enemies of disease, hunger, and social and economic deprivation," the vice president said.

Flying from Honolulu with Humphrey were South Viet Nam's top leaders, who gave evidence Tuesday that they wanted a tougher war against Communist North Viet Nam along with the programs to better the life of the people.

Officials here said they did not yet know Humphrey's next stop after South Viet Nam.

Sources in Washington said Humphrey's tour would include the capitals of Thailand, Malaysia, Australia and India. Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand said the vice

Nation's Teen-agers Spend $15 Billion Every Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A youth quake is shaking American business with granny dresses, folk-rock records, transistor radios and smell-alike steadies.

With a collective $15 billion a year to spend, the nation's 24 million teen-agers have become the long-haired darlings of businessmen looking for big markets now and more later when the young people begin setting up homes of their own.

From Miami, Fla. to Bellingham, Wash., from Bangor, Maine, to San Diego, Calif., teen-agers dress alike and dance alike.

They also buy alike — with a difference.

Their money doesn't go for rent and taxes, but for snacks, clothes, records, cars, cosmetics, dates, movies, contact lenses, guitars, skindiving equipment and a thousand other items.

"Clothes — that's where all my money goes," says Audrey

Philps, 17, of Harlingen, Texas. "I spend money for food primarily," said Alex Kliros, 16, of Atlanta, a strapping 6-footer. "I also spend it on shooting pool, going to the movies."

Audrey and Alex are two of the scores of teen-agers who were asked in an Associated Press nationwide survey what they do with their money.

Their answers are vital to the growing number of firms retooling production lines and sales efforts to the demands of the youth market.

As Bruce A. Gimbel, New York City department store president, put it: "We no longer keep up with the Joneses, we keep up with the young."

One Fifth Avenue department store — Lord & Taylor — reports its teen-age business has grown 200 per cent in the last 10 years, and a store official adds he expects it to grow another 25 per cent a year for the foreseeable future.

A swank Fifth Avenue store

for women — Bergdorf-Goodman — opened a haven for teen-agers this month. Airlines offer them half-rate fares. Auto makers appeal to them with fast-back cars. There are bar mitzvah pilgrimages to Israel, summer skiing tours of Europe and camps for overweight girls or those worried about their social IQ's — "College will be a ball this fall."

The reasons are obvious.

Teen-aged girls spend $3,825, 000,000 a year on clothes and $575 million more on shoes. They plucked the granny dress off the French Riviera and spread it coast to coast last summer, shifting lines throughout the garment industry. Now they are going for granny boots — laced up the front — granny purses and granny spectacles.

The girls spend $470 million a year on cosmetics, and sales of men's toiletries are soaring, spurred by young buyers.

One reason: instead of just exchanging pins or rings, young couples now wear the same cologne to become smell-alike steadies.

Teen-agers spend nearly $300 million a year on records, accounting for 80 per cent of the single-record sales. They switched from Elvis Presley to the Beatles and Sonny and Cher, and the record companies followed suit.

Sue Miller, 14, Monterey Park, Calif., spends half of her income on records. "I have all the Beatle albums and the Rolling Stones," said a 16-year-old girl at Douglas Freeman High School in Richmond. "I have 106 albums and a stack of 45s."

Teen-agers listen to the radio an average of 2½ hours a day, and many walk down the street plugged in. Of the girls, 66.4 per cent own portable transistors.

Nearly half of the teen-agers go to the movies at least once a week. An independent movie maker, American-International

Red Viet Note Not Impressive

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian government today chilled hopes that a letter from North Viet Nam's President Ho Chi Minh may have contained the peace talk signal awaited by the Johnson administration.

In the midst of worldwide speculation over the meaning of Ho's Jan. 24 message to Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an official government spokesman said it was "mostly concerned with stating the position of his country."

Except for emphasizing India's special position as chairman of the International Control Commission, the Indochina peacekeeping agency, Ho did not go beyond previous proclamations from Hanoi, the spokesman said.

Nevertheless, he said, India was continuing its talks with "friendly countries" to find a way to end the fighting.

Reports of the letter caught officials in Washington by surprise Tuesday. A State Department spokesman said the Indians had not apprised the United States of the letter, nor had the text been made available.

Although many U.S. officials suspected the note differed little from others sent to various capitals by the North Vietnamese chief 17 days ago, the possibility of a peace feeler from Hanoi rocked the New York Stock Exchange. Defense issues were hardest hit in the heaviest trading in months.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the letter "could be of great significance. If we respond in the right way, it could be helpful."

There was no comment from the White House.

The North Vietnamese Consul General in New Delhi said Ho wrote Radhakrishnan that India as chairman of the International Control Commission bears a special responsibility for the restoration of peace. But it was apparent that Ho meant peace on his terms.

A spokesman for the consulate general confirmed that the letter to the Indian president was one of several sent out by Ho on Jan. 24 denouncing President Johnson's post-Christmas "peace offensive."

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who also received a letter from Ho, told the House of Commons Tuesday that Canada has been conferring with India and Poland on possible use of the International Control Commission as a possible vehicle for negotiations. They are the three members of the commission.

The International Control Commission was created by the 1954 Geneva Conference which ended French rule in Indochina and created the separate states of North and South Viet Nam.

Johnson . . .

"We must bring about a true social revolution and construct a modern society in which every man can know that he has a future; that he has respect and dignity; that he has the opportunity for himself and for his children to live in an environment where all is not disappointment, despair and dejection; that the opportunities exist for the full expression of his talents and his hopes."

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, at the earlier news conference, referred to 1967 as "the year we will have free elections" and also when "we will eliminate the influence of the Communists in South Viet Nam."

The United States, for its part, pledged to fight aggression, to support "the principles of the self-determination of peoples and of government by consent of the governed," to work to stamp out hunger, ignorance and disease and stressed that "no path to peace shall be unexplored."

Among the points in the communique section were these:

—The two governments will "take further concrete steps to combat inflation."

—High priority will be given to an "intensified program of rural construction."

—Efforts will be stepped up to bring agricultural knowhow "to the farmer in the fields" and for "more rapid land reform."

—Programs in health and education would be intensified.

—Americans will assist programs to care for refugees including providing schools for refugee children.

Teen-agers, as nearly every father can confirm, are a boon to the automobile business. Of the girls, 2,241,000 drive and a half million own their own cars. The figures are even higher for boys.

A Denver automobile dealer says he is hiring several salesmen barely out of high school because "they speak the same jargon teen-agers do."

Teen-agers are likely to have a big influence on their parents' choice of cars and other items, from bacon to television sets. "I'd been working on daddy for two years for a color TV," said Kathy Hodge, 16, Wichita, Kan. "We got it for Christmas."

Some teen-agers have their own charge accounts.

Bobbie West, 17, Tallahassee, Fla., has three accounts in her own name, but she is an exception.

Parents objected when a firm in Austin, Tex. mailed credit cards to high schoolers.

The Denver Retail Merchants Association said several stores reported efforts to encourage individual charge accounts for high school and college students met with failure; the students preferred to use their parents' accounts.

Nearly half of the girls who will be married this year will be teen-agers. One million girls, like President Johnson's daughter Luci, are engaged.

Teen-agers have replaced farmers as the economic backbone of the nation, Helen Nelson, California's consumer counsel, reports.

"It is a sobering thought to consider that the consumer market may be dominated by inexperienced family units," she said, issuing a booklet of advice.

At Westport High in Kansas City, Tom Wray, 17, is the father of a 3-month-old baby. His wife, 18, used to work, but now is home.

Wray attends high school three hours in the morning and works 60 hours a week parking cars. He earns $70 a week.

(Continued from Page 1) president also would go to Auckland. Informal sources in Bangkok said the vice president would fly to the Thai capital from Saigon Friday night and would stay until Saturday afternoon.

The first job assigned him by the President is to familiarize himself with the various economic, social and political improvement projects, to spur the efforts on, and to return to the United States in a position to help nurture the work at the Washington end.

In the other capitals on his itinerary, the vice president will "explain what was done at Honolulu and its meaning and ask for the support of others," Johnson said in Los Angeles.

Social progress for the South Vietnamese people was a refrain repeated with drumbeat regularity and rising intensity during the mid-Pacific conference involving Johnson, key Cabinet officers and aides, and nine of the leaders of South Viet Nam's military government.

Homemaker Faces Many Decisions

EDITOR'S NOTE — The local Extension Service, now settled in new headquarters at 137 W. Franklin St., is observing open house this week to familiarize Pickaway Countians with the new facilities. The story below is one of a series describing the Cooperative Extension operation and services provided.

Today's homemaker faces constant decisions — what to buy and how to stretch the income, care for the children, stretch time and energy, to cover everything that must be done.

She seeks reliable unbiased information to help her with her job. Extension home economists with support from subject matter specialists from the USDA and Ohio State University supply sound facts based on scientific research.

County Extension agents in home economics work with youth and adults, both men and women, answering questions dealing with homemaking. The areas involved are: food and nutrition, textiles and clothing, family and child development, management of time and energy, housing and furnishings.

Physical fitness, an important national goal, depends greatly on good nutrition. Teen-agers — especially girls — have the poorest food habits and the worst nutrition of any family member. Overweight is another problem. Mothers with young children, and older people, eat too few of the foods they need.

Extension home economists give homemakers new ideas for better meals, teach them more about nutrition for young and old and more about planning, buying and preparing food.

Clothing affects the health and efficiency of all the family. It has social and psychological meanings important to the development of individuals. Extension programs in this field include selecting clothing for specific uses, improving personal appearance, managing and maintaining the family's wardrobe, home sewing and understanding fiber characteristics and their uses.

From Extension home economists, homemakers learn about the growth of individuals and their relationships with others. The study the person, the family, and the community. Programs include teaching parents more about children, with emphasis on their developmental needs and tasks in a changing society; family relationships at different times in the life of the family (young couple, parents, aging); and community resources that can help them.

Management education helps the homemaker consider family life as a whole and the ways that family goals can be reached. Through home management education, a homemaker learns to make efficient use of time, energy and money for better living for all the family.

The homemaker hopes to create an environment in which she and her family can develop their highest potential. Extension programs teach her the economic and social aspects of housing, how to plan space requirements, how to create home beauty and comfort. She learns how to select durable, labor-saving, and attractive furnishings and equipment at a price that fits the family budget.

In Ohio homemakers are especially fortunate to add to this list of resources in community meals or large group meals.

In all these areas mentioned, the homemaker is challenged with decisions as a consumer. The decisions she must make are new during our lifetime and have daily changing consequences.

Much of the home agent's time is spent helping homemakers understand the information that will help with those decisions. This information helps the homemaker gain more satisfaction and better use from the goods and services she purchases. It also helps her make better use of credit.

Home agents work with boys and girls through 4-H, with brides, young mothers, working homemakers, aging families problems, and others who have questions or problems about their daily occupation — homemaking.

She reaches homemakers through workshops, meetings, discussions at the office or in homes, radio, newspapers, newsletters and home visits.

Stock Prices Still Climbing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its snapback from the Viet Nam "peace scare" and moved ahead vigorously. Volume during the morning was the heaviest of the week, with 4.54 million shares changing hands.

A wide assortment of large blocks changed hands in a variety of issues.

The aerospace defense stocks recovered, along with electronics and other defense-related issues which were battered during the big selling wave of Tuesday afternoon.

Steels, rails, chemicals, office equipments and airlines made good progress.

The rise in installment credit and the drop in unemployment to the lowest level in nine years were encouraging background factors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 367.8 with industrials up 1.5, rails up 1.4 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.51 at 994.54.

Bridge Meeting Slated Tuesday

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners will meet Feb. 15 with representatives from the Norfolk & Western Railroad concerning a overhead bridge improvement on the Circleville-Tarlton Road.

The session will be conducted in the commission office at the Courthouse, starting at 10 a. m. Members of the commission said they hope the present one-lane traffic span can be replaced. Cost sharing and other construction aspects will be discussed at the Tuesday meeting.

The scheduled meeting here was arranged by County Engineer Henry McCrady.

Two Men Placed On Probation Here

Two men were placed on probation during Tuesday's session of Common Pleas Court. Judge William Ammer presided.

Charles E. Downs, Route 2, Amanda, was handed a three-year probationary sentence after pleading guilty to an unarmed robbery charge. He appeared before the court on a bill of information.

Charles W. Rutter, East St., also received three years probation on a charge of intimidating a witness.

Rutter was indicted by the January term of the Grand Jury and entered a plea of innocent at his arraignment. He changed his plea to guilty earlier this week and was sentenced by Judge Ammer.

Jets Step Up

In Vientiane, capital of neighboring Laos, a spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry reported: North Vietnamese tanks had been seen for the first time on the Ho Chi Minh Trail through eastern Laos, en route to South Viet Nam. Qualified military sources in Saigon, however, were skeptical of the report. They said tanks might be more of a liability than an asset to the Viet Cong.

The Strategic Air Command's eight-engine B52s from Guam joined the air offensive in the past 24 hours, pounding Viet Cong concentrations in Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border and in Phu Yen Province on the central plains, U.S. spokesmen said.

No American planes were reported lost in the double-barreled air action on both sides of the 17th Parallel.

The 7th Fleet carriers Ticonderoga and Ranger sent 17 jet missions against the North. The Navy planes smashed four road and rail bridges and cut several highways in the Dong Hoi and Vinh areas, spokesmen said. Pilots claimed they destroyed the Tam Da highway bridge, where reconnaissance planes spotted heavy southbound traffic during the 37-day bombing pause.

Annual Meet Conducted by Stockholders

Stockholders of The First National Bank conducted their annual organizational meeting yesterday and re-elected its board of directors.

Renamed as chairman of the board and president of the bank was George P. Foresman. Other directors are Ralph Curtin, Herschel Hill, Dwight Steele, Carl C. Leist, John H. Dunlap, R. V. Hamman, Jack Clifton and Kermit Dountz.

Officers reelected, in addition to Foresman, were Roy C. Marshall as vice president; James H. Fausnaugh, who was named vice president of the Williamsport branch; Blenn Bales, vice president of the Commercial Point branch; Miss Ona M. Hurr and Mrs. Evelyn Leist, assistant vice presidents; John E. Fuller, cashier; Karl O. Drum, Mrs. Evelyn Kauffield and Mrs. Ruth Snyder, assistant cashiers.

Other employees of the financial institution are: Robert E. Bauer, installment loan officer; Mrs. Helen M. Sowers, teller; Miss Norma Jean Anderson, bookkeeper; Mrs. Pamela Buskirk, Mrs. Sarah Emerine, Miss Sharon L. Evans, Mrs. Rose E. Henson, Mrs. Margaret Ritchie, Mrs. Marvene E. Ruhl, Mrs. Marilyn J. Bowers, all tellers; Miss Myrna J. Gregory, Mrs. Sandra DeWeese, Miss Norma R. Troutman, Mrs. Ellen G. Gayer, Miss Elaine Mosley, Miss Shirley Southward, Miss Amelia Thomas, Mrs. Jean Williams, Miss Diane Reithmiller, all bookkeepers; Miss Carolyn Hall, Miss Karen S. Woltz, David L. Latimer, tellers; Mrs. Rosemary Dunkel, receptionist; and Louis E. Lockard, custodian.

City Court Docket Lists Two Motorists

Circleville Municipal Court's traffic docket today listed two motorists charged with violations. They were:

Clifford H. Wood, 44, Chillicothe; $33 bond forfeiture for speeding 84 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Phyllis Hines, 34, Ashville; $25 and costs with the fine suspended for failure to notify a property owner following an accident.

Equipment Purchases OK'd By City Board of Education

Circleville Board of Education, experiencing somewhat of a lull in usual hectic school year activity, approved several purchase orders during Tuesday night's regular monthly session.

The board, meeting with Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, also scheduled dates for three upcoming events involving students and teachers.

Taking priority on the purchase list was the final decision on fabric and color of a front curtain for the auditorium of the new high school that will open this fall. Turquoise velour was the board's final selection.

The board met with some member opposition earlier in attempting to select the drape. Jansen Industries of Canton will tailor and hang the drapery.

APPROVAL for the purchase and installation of a public address system at the Atwater building was granted. Costs of the equipment is to be paid by the PTA and installation will be footed by the school board.

New chairs for the cafeteria in the high school are being ordered to replace an obsolete folding type. This is being done in an effort to update the high school building for use by the junior high next year. New desks and chairs for the S. Court St. building were also ordered for next year when Walnut elementary students will attend classes there. Jacobs said the 165 new desks will take the place of desks presently being used by seventh graders. The junior high desks will be moved with the students next year.

The date of Mar. 29 has been slated as Education-Business-Industry Day when seniors will visit local industries. This is the third installment of the program. Last year business and industry representatives visited the schools and two years ago teachers were given an opportunity to visit local business and industry.

The second annual Elementary Music Festival with grades 4-7 participating has been scheduled for 7:30 p. m. on April 29, in the high school gymnasium. The program will be presented under the direction of Clifford Kerns and Paul Dunkle.

Another date set by the board was April 6, for the registration of 1966-67 kindergarten students. Details of the registration program are to be worked out by the superintendent.

A LENGTHY discussion concerning transportation of students next school year was tabled for further study. The present system of bus schedules was evaluated along with changes that will have to be made next year due to the opening of the new high school. Transportation of parochial students was also briefly discussed, but tabled until "guidelines are received from the State Department of Education," according to Jacobs.

A petition from several Wayne Twp. residents was received and acknowledged by the school board last night. The petition concerned a change in the attendance center for Wayne Twp. students. Consideration had been given in the past to transporting Wayne Twp. students into Circleville for classes.

Registration from Mrs. Mary Ann Wellington was also read and accepted by the board. Mrs. Wellington had received a year's leave of absence and in the meantime her husband, Robert, accepted a position with a firm in Kansas City, Mo., where they are now residing.

Deaths

MRS. BESSIE DUNLAP Services will be conducted 2 p. m. Friday at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home for Mrs. Bessie Dunlap of Route 2, who died Tuesday.

The Rev. G. H. Niswender will officiate. Burial will be in Springbank Cemetery, Yellow-bud.

Gasoline Causes Hand, Leg Burns

Norman Williams, 28, Williamsport, suffered burns to both hands and his right leg after gasoline exploded while he was working on a car. He received care in the emergency room at Berger Hospital.

Also treated was Ronald Martin, 26, of 403 S. Pickaway St. He slipped and fell through a window at home, lacerating his right wrist.

Both were released following treatment.

Man Serves Dozen 'Extra' Jail Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George Robison, who the 9th District Court of Appeals ruled last week should have gotten out of prison in 1952, went free Tuesday after spending 12 "extra" years in Ohio penitentiary.

Robison of Mount Vernon was accused of breaking into the home of a brother-in-law, where his wife was staying, at Wooster in 1950. He was given a life sentence for burglary—when he had been indicted for breaking and entering at night, which provides for a maximum sentence of two years. Robison, 53, was paroled twice during his term but returned for violations before the appeals court's new order.

More Antipoverty Funds Said Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — More money is needed for the government's antipoverty program, says a congressional report.

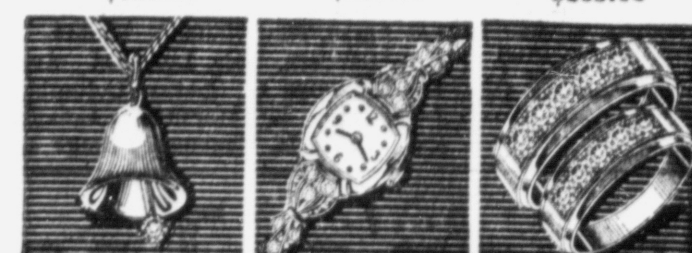

The report was compiled at the direction of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee and its special subcommittee on poverty.

Powell told newsmen Tuesday that the study points up some of the shortcomings in the antipoverty program, and shows the urgent need for more cooperation between the federal agencies involved and more money for the various projects.

More than 18 Months

In asking Congress for an additional $12.7 billion in spending authority, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara said, "We have assumed . . . that combat operations will continue through the end of June, 1967."

McNamara would have been more honest had he added, "and beyond." But McNamara, as events have shown, has been consistently over-optimistic and evasive in his remarks about Viet Nam. With this in mind, Americans should not jump to the conclusion that the Viet Nam struggle can be resolved in the next 18 months.

The American people must gird themselves for a long and bloody struggle in Southeast Asia and with it an inevitable belt-tightening. Even if the situation evolves into a stalemate, merely maintaining that stalemate will be a considerable drain on U. S. resources.

There is little reason to doubt that the communists are prepared for a long conflict. Not 18 months, but many years. They have said so often enough. Their lack of favorable response to President Johnson's peace offensive — noisy and Madison Avenue in style though it was — underscores their stated attitude.

The U. S. is turning a corner, and peace does not appear to be just around it.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs are multiplying that many U.S. businessmen are preparing for the chance that the Viet Nam war will be stepped up.

Reports from Honolulu of greater determination to see the war through are being interpreted by many here as reasons for industry and trade to take more precautions now. The memory of Korean War conditions still is fresh.

Precautions already clearly under way include increased orders for materials and durable goods, especially machinery. Backlogs of orders on factory books are rising. And more pressure is reported for early shipments — a demand that some suppliers are finding hard to satisfy.

The scope of the war effort is becoming more apparent — American military personnel in South Viet Nam already increased to 200,000, and the official estimate boosting the cost of the war to $10 billion in the next fiscal year, from $4 billion in this one.

Industrial prices have been feeling the pressure. Many manufacturers, unable to get quick delivery on needed materials, have been paying more in the secondary markets than the listed price set by the producer. Such buying at higher prices doesn't show up in the official price indexes, but it does on company books.

Interest rates have felt the demand for funds to finance these purchases of materials for quick use or for inventory build-up as a hedge against what may be ahead. Bankers say such business psychology is back of some of the growing demand for business loans.

Much of the rise in interest rates or yields on outstanding securities is attributed both to the swelling demand for more loans and to the fairly general belief that increasing demand in the months ahead will send interest rates still higher.

Reports from Honolulu and from Washington stress the continued quest for peace. And businessmen, like other American citizens, hope it will be successful.

But many feel they have to be ready just in case.

And rising prices on some needed materials, shortages of others, the quest in certain industries for the type of worker skills they need, along with the growing belief that inflation something like the Korean War type is a possibility — all sharpen the desire to take precautions.

Can You Remember When —

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest treasure chest is memory.

Things in a hope chest mildew and fade with the passing years. But time increases the value of the contents of memory's treasure chest. What remains is tested and true, and shines in the recollecting heart like purest gold.

Is that British system for controlling drug addicts completely satisfactory?

The British Narcotic System is based on the idea that addicts should be given their daily requirements of heroin, and thus be kept under constant supervision by the authorities. The basic purpose is to eliminate the malignant, unlawful traffic of drugs.

Unfortunately, the British system is not regarded as the total answer to this gigantic problem of human waste. With their permissive attitude drugs are being peddled around London by addicts themselves, instead of by pushers who seek financial gain by "making" new addicts.

Drug addicts are most ingenious in their convincing techniques of fraud in acquiring more than their habit needs. The rest is sold or used by them to convert friends to the addiction.

The British system is now being modified to stem the leak of narcotics through their "supervised" users.

Can palm reading really indicate certain diseases?

The intricate design of the lines of the palm has for centuries been used to foretell the future and prophesy events. The validity of this has been exploded as an opportunistic myth.

The corrugations on the fingers are, of course, distinct in each human being. Fingerprints fall into three main types, all of which can identify every person on earth.

Scientists have found that tracings of the hand prints can definitely be identified with certain neurological disorders.

The lines of the palm are said to be completely formed and fixed about five months before birth and are never changed afterwards.

Because of this there is now hope that the study of heredity, the genes and the chromosomes will be furthered by the new science of dermatoglyphics.

Why are women so severely depressed after an operation for the removal of the uterus or ovaries?

Many female, or gynecological, operations are known to be followed by emotional depression in some women.

It is felt that the operation seems to change a woman's good image or her femininity.

It occurs so commonly that the physician and surgeon offer explanations and constant reassurance to their patients. Often supportive psychological discussions are used to help carry the patient through this difficult period.

When patients "talk out" their anxieties to their doctors they seem to be less severe and more readily overcome.

The "handicapped" make a valuable contribution to those who are perceptive enough to employ them.

Source of Political Ideas

By John C. Herbert

Third party candidates, if they have any oomph, are invariably denounced as "spoilers." And, from the standpoint of the political pros, that is just what they are likely to be. The significance of the third party in U. S. history, however, is that it has always been the conduit through which new ideas have found their way into political discussion. It was the Populist Party in the Eighteen Nineties that created the platforms which were eventually used by Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson for their victories. And it was the Free Soil Party in the Eighteen Forties that prepared the way for the Republican Party victory under Abraham Lincoln.

In its own small way, the Conservative Party of New York is filling the role of idea feeder for the campaigns of the future. The stereotype about Conservatives is that they are negative souls who want to obstruct the movement of history. But William Buckley, as the "third man" opponent to John Lindsay and Abe Beam in the New York City mayoralty campaign last fall, was long on constructive ideas. New Yorkers would certainly have welcomed that Buckley - proposed length - of-Manhattan bicycle lane at the height of the recent transit strike, and some day a New York Mayor will have to agree with Conservative Buckley that a way must be found to limit the number of automobiles using the central city streets.

In the 17th Congressional District fight in New York for the U. S. House of Representatives seat vacated by John Lindsay, the main interest has been the contest between Republican Ted Kuyperman, who is "Lindsay's man," and Democrat Orin Lehman, the inheritor of a great New York political name. As between the two, I hope Lehman wins, largely because he has been so sympathetic in past years to the cause of the Captive Nations of eastern Europe. But, from the standpoint of ideas, there isn't much difference between the two major party candidates. The intellectual yeast in the 17th District struggle has, once again, been provided by the Conservative Party candidate, who happens in this instance to be TV-programmer Jeffrey St. John.

One of St. John's proposals calls for the creation of standing 25 - member Congressional District Councils, to be chosen on a proportional representation basis in each Congressional area to provide a constant advisory service to an incumbent Washington Representative. Mr. St. John would begin with a pilot project in his own 17th District in Manhattan. The business of the District Council would not be to propose new laws, but to vote "yes" or "no" in its advisory capacity on legislation pending in Washington. The incumbent Congressman would thus be presented at all times with the true

Persons interested in the organization of a class for retarded children were urged to attend a meeting in the Probate Court, Pickaway County Courthouse.

Farmers and their families were invited to attend the John Deere Day program at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

TEN YEARS AGO
Miss Nancy Barnhill was mistress of ceremonies when approximately 140 young people and councillors from youth groups of Circleville attended the Interdenominational Youth Rally at the First Methodist Church.

Plans were made for a Valentine party at a High St. PTA meeting.

Deborah Ruth and Stephanie Brown of Gahanna visited with Mrs. Lowell Brown, Route 3.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Officials of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. were to meet with City Council to discuss measures for reducing the cost of city street lighting.

reflection of opinion in his district. And because of their representation according to proportional political party strength on the advisory Council, individuals "back home" would feel they were truly a part of representative government.

As long as our Representatives are elected for a two-year term, the St. John idea might be considered superfluous. For the two-year Congressman is under constant pressure to test sentiment at the grass roots in his district at all times. But if Lyndon Johnson's idea for a four-year Congressional term of office goes through, with the Representatives going to the polls only in Presidential election years, it would relieve the average Congressman from the necessity of keeping close tabs on a month-to-month or even a year-to-year basis on what people in his district happen to be thinking. The average Congressman in such easy circumstances could rely on the propensity of people to forget. He could also rely on the coattails of a popular President to pull him through to election every fourth year.

Assuming that Lyndon Johnson will have his way about the four-year House of Representatives term, something will have to be done in the future to keep the average Congressman alive at all times to what the home folks are thinking. Whether Mr. St. John has hit upon the best possible device is open to argument. But at least he has thrown an idea into the arena where his two major party opponents have been silent. And this, in itself, is his justification for challenging the two old parties, even at the risk of acting as a "spoiler."

Petition Asks Boost In Tax Exemptions

SLAT LAKE CITY (AP) — Mayor J. Bracken Lee was soliciting signatures Tuesday for a petition that would ask Congress to increase the dependent exemption for income tax from $600 to $1,500.

Lee said he joined in the efforts of William A. Jolley of Willamette, Ore., who started the petition. He said he supports the need for an increase in the exemption because of what he called inflation.

Republican Rhodes Seen Following Dem Lausche's Political Example

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, a country boy who learned big time politics the hard way, is tuning a high-powered Republican bandwagon for a record run sure to attract national attention.

Heading a ticket of unopposed statehouse incumbents, the 56-year-old governor and former Columbus mayor is pointing directly for the Nov. 8 election while Democrats scrap over May 3 primary nominations for all but one post.

It marks the first time since 1954 that Republicans have fielded a state primary slate without contests.

Rhodes already has met quietly on two occasions with GOP candidates to map campaign strategy and extend friendly coattails that often appeared bobbed in previous administrations of both parties. More huddles are slated with the blessings of John S. Andrews, Toledo, new Republican state chairman.

"We want to bring about a maximum degree of cooperation and coordination between the individual campaigns of each candidate and the overall campaign conducted by state headquarters," Andrews said.

"We have very excellent working relations between his office and mine," the chairman added.

Such rapport between the two offices was less evident during the regime of Andrews' predecessor, Ray C. Bliss of Akron, who became national GOP chairman in 1964.

Andrews' observations bolstered reports that a GOP schism, stemming from Barry Goldwater's ill-fated Ohio campaign against President Johnson two years ago, has all but healed.

Rhodes' aloofness at that time, shared by most of the party incumbents, only added to his growing reputation for political savvy now facing an ordeal by fire.

Some of the most formidable Democratic campaigners have declared that they would direct their shafts at Rhodes instead of their primary opponents.

Rhodes shrugs off the prospects and indicates that he will continue along the lines that won him election by a 555,000-vote margin nearly four years ago, after 10 years as state auditor and a similar span as

Columbus mayor.

That victory followed a change in campaign tactics after a sizzling but futile attempt in 1954 to unseat Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. senator. An earlier bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1950 also failed.

In those campaigns, Rhodes drove to the attack only to become convinced that once Ohio voters make up their minds about a candidate, a slashing campaign is unlikely to change their sentiments.

As a result, associates said Rhodes switched to a more positive technique in the Lausche manner that virtually made Ohio's only five-term governor a legend in his time.

Not that Rhodes ever really stops campaigning or loses the common touch that friends credit for bringing the son of a coal miner from his native Jackson County to the state's highest elective office without benefit of a college education.

Although seeking a second four-year term, Rhodes feels that a governor should run his office as though he were standing for election every two years as required before the start of longer terms in 1959.

As a result, Rhodes expects to continue promoting his programs for economic development of the state to boost employment, which he describes as the cure for most social ills.

Right now, Rhodes plans to wait until after Labor Day to launch a campaign "full of surprises" while helping fellow Republicans in a team effort reaching down to the local level.

Meanwhile, members of that team hopefully predict that attacks on the governor will be about as effective as "punching a pillow."

CHAIRMAN — Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati, whose vaccines have protected millions the world over from paralytic polio, will head up this year's sale of Easter Seals in Ohio. The campaign will extend from Mar. 1 to April 10.

More than 18 Months

In asking Congress for an additional $12.7 billion in spending authority, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara said, "We have assumed . . . that combat operations will continue through the end of June, 1967."

McNamara would have been more honest had he added, "and beyond." But McNamara, as events have shown, has been consistently over-optimistic and evasive in his remarks about Viet Nam. With this in mind, Americans should not jump to the conclusion that the Viet Nam struggle can be resolved in the next 18 months.

The American people must gird themselves for a long and bloody struggle in Southeast Asia and with it an inevitable belt-tightening. Even if the situation evolves into a stalemate, merely maintaining that stalemate will be a considerable drain on U. S. resources.

There is little reason to doubt that the communists are prepared for a long conflict. Not 18 months, but many years. They have said so often enough. Their lack of favorable response to President Johnson's peace offensive — noisy and Madison Avenue in style though it was — underscores their stated attitude.

The U. S. is turning a corner, and peace does not appear to be just around it.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs are multiplying that many U.S. businessmen are preparing for the chance that the Viet Nam war will be stepped up.

Reports from Honolulu of greater determination to see the war through are being interpreted by many here as reasons for industry and trade to take more precautions now. The memory of Korean War conditions still is fresh.

Precautions already clearly under way include increased orders for materials and durable goods, especially machinery. Backlogs of orders on factory books are rising. And more pressure is reported for early shipments — a demand that some suppliers are finding hard to satisfy.

The scope of the war effort is becoming more apparent — American military personnel in South Viet Nam already increased to 200,000, and the official estimate boosting the cost of the war to $10 billion in the next fiscal year, from $4 billion in this one.

Industrial prices have been feeling the pressure. Many manufacturers, unable to get quick delivery on needed materials, have been paying more in the secondary markets than the listed price set by the producer. Such buying at higher prices doesn't show up in the official price indexes, but it does on company books.

Interest rates have felt the demand for funds to finance these purchases of materials for quick use or for inventory build-ups as a hedge against what may be ahead. Bankers say such business psychology is back of some of the growing demand for business loans.

Much of the rise in interest rates or yields on outstanding securities is attributed both to the swelling demand for more loans and to the fairly general belief that increasing demand in the months ahead will send interest rates still higher.

Reports from Honolulu and from Washington stress the continued quest for peace. And businessmen, like other American citizens, hope it will be successful.

But many feel they have to be ready just in case.

And rising prices on some needed materials, shortages of others, the quest in certain industries for the type of worker skills they need, along with the growing belief that inflation something like the Korean War type is a possibility — all sharpen the desire to take precautions.

Is that British system for controlling drug addicts completely satisfactory?

The British Narcotic System is based on the idea that addicts should be given their daily requirements of heroin, and thus be kept under constant supervision by the authorities. The basic purpose is to eliminate the malignant, unlawful traffic of drugs.

Unfortunately, the British system is not regarded as the total answer to this gigantic problem of human waste. With their permissive attitude drugs are being peddled around London by addicts themselves, instead of by pushers who seek financial gain by "making" new addicts.

Drug addicts are most ingenious in their convincing techniques of fraud in acquiring more than their habit needs. The rest is sold or used by them to convert friends to the addiction.

The British system is now being modified to stem the leak of narcotics through their "supervised" users.

Can palm reading really indicate certain diseases? The intricate design of the lines of the palm has for centuries been used to foretell the future and prophesy events. The validity of this has been exploded as an opportunistic myth.

The corrugations on the fingers are, of course, distinct in each human being. Fingerprints fall into three main types, all of which can identify every person on earth.

Scientists have found that tracings of the hand prints can definitely be identified with certain neurological disorders.

The lines of the palm are said to be completely formed and fixed about five months before birth and are never changed afterwards.

Because of this there is now hope that the study of heredity, the genes and the chromosomes will be furthered by the new science of dermatoglyphics.

Why are women so severely depressed after an operation for the removal of the uterus or ovaries?

Many female, or gynecological, operations are known to be followed by emotional depression in some women.

It is felt that the operation seems to change a woman's good image or her femininity.

It occurs so commonly that the physician and surgeon offer explanations and constant reassurance to their patients. Often supportive psychological discussions are used to help carry the patient through this difficult period.

When patients "talk out" their anxieties to their doctors they seem to be less severe and more readily overcome.

The "handicapped" make a valuable contribution to those who are perceptive enough to employ them.

Source of Political Ideas

By John C. Bertalan

Third party candidates, if they have any oomph, are invariably denounced as "spoilers." And, from the standpoint of the political pros, that is just what they are likely to be. The significance of the third party in U. S. history, however, is that it has always been the conduit through which new ideas have found their way into political discussion. It was the Populist Party in the Eighteen Nineties that created the platforms which were eventually used by Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson for their victories. And it was the Free Soil Party in the Eighteen Forties that prepared the way for the Republican Party victory under Abraham Lincoln.

In its own small way, the Conservative Party of New York is filling the role of idea feeder for the campaigns of the future. The stereotype about Conservatives is that they are negative souls who want to obstruct the movement of history. But William Buckley, as the "third man" opponent to John Lindsay and Abe Beam in the New York City mayoralty campaign last fall, was long on constructive ideas. New Yorkers would certainly have welcomed that Buckley - proposed length - of-Manhattan bicycle lane at the height of the recent transit strike, and some day a New York Mayor will have to agree with Conservative Buckley that a way must be found to limit the number of automobiles using the central city streets.

In the 17th Congressional District fight in New York for the U. S. House of Representatives seat vacated by John Lindsay, the main interest has been the contest between Republican Ted Kipperman, who is "Lindsay's man," and Democrat Orin Lehman, the inheritor of a great New York political name. As between the two, I hope Lehman wins, largely because he has been so sympathetic in past years to the cause of the Captive Nations of eastern Europe. But, from the standpoint of ideas, there isn't much difference between the two major party candidates. The intellectual yeast in the 17th District struggle has, once again, been provided by the Conservative Party candidate, who happens in this instance to be TV-programmer Jeffrey St. John.

One of St. John's proposals calls for the creation of standing 25 - member Congressional District Councils, to be chosen on a proportional representation basis in each Congressional area to provide a constant advisory service to an incumbent Washington Representative. Mr. St. John would begin with a pilot project in his own 17th District in Manhattan. The business of the District Council would not be to propose new laws, but to vote "yes" or "no" in its advisory capacity on legislation pending in Washington. The incumbent Congressman would thus be presented at all times with the true

Pickaway County Looking Back In

FIVE YEARS AGO

Richard K. Snouffer, 916 Lincoln Drive, was named Circleville High School principal to replace J. Wray Henry who planned to retire.

Persons interested in the organization of a class for retarded children were urged to attend a meeting in the Probate Court, Pickaway County Courthouse.

Farmers and their families were invited to attend the John Deere Day program at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

TEN YEARS AGO

Miss Nancy Barnhill was mistress of ceremonies when approximately 140 young people and councillors from youth groups of Circleville attended the Interdenominational Youth Rally at the First Methodist Church.

Plans were made for a Valentine party at a High St. PTA meeting.

Deborah Ruth and Stephanie Brown of Gahanna visited with Mrs. Lowell Brown, Route 3.

OFFICIALS of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. were to meet with City Council to discuss measures for reducing the cost of city street lighting.

Mrs. Fred Page, N. Court St., left for St. Louis, Mo., to join a party of friends in a motor trip through the South.

Judges had been selected for the second annual Corn and Soybean Show with premiums amounting to nearly $100 to be offered in eight classes.

reflection of opinion in his district. And because of their representation according to proportional political party strength on the advisory Council, individuals "back home" would feel they were truly a part of representative government.

As long as our Representatives are elected for a two-year term, the St. John idea might be considered superfluous. For the two-year Congressman is under constant pressure to test sentiment at the grass roots in his district at all times. But if Lyndon Johnson's idea for a four-year Congressional term of office goes through, with the Representatives going to the polls only in Presidential election years, it would relieve the average Congressman from the necessity of keeping close tabs on a month-to-month or even a year-to-year basis on what people in his district happen to be thinking. The average Congressman in such easy circumstances could rely on the propensity of people to forget. He could also rely on the coattails of a popular President to pull him through to election every fourth year.

Assuming that Lyndon Johnson will have his way about the four-year House of Representatives term, something will have to be done in the future to keep the average Congressman alive at all times to what the home folks are thinking. Whether Mr. St. John has hit upon the best possible device is open to argument. But at least he has thrown an idea into the arena where his two major party opponents have been silent. And this, in itself, is his justification for challenging the two old parties, even at the risk of acting as a "spoiler."

Petition Asks Boost In Tax Exemptions

SLAT LAKE CITY (AP) — Mayor J. Bracken Lee was soliciting signatures Tuesday for a petition that would ask Congress to increase the dependent exemption for income tax from $600 to $1,500.

Lee said he joined in the efforts of William A. Jolley of Willamette, Ore., who started the petition. He said he supports the need for an increase in the exemption because of what he called inflation.

DR BENJAMIN SPOCK, unchallenged authority on baby and child care, recalls that he once made an intense study of newborn infants' faces to see if they would reveal the babies' sex. "Today," admits Dr. Spock sheepishly, "I'm convinced that the older way of finding out is both surer and quicker."

New Project Is Accepted By Auxiliary

A new project was discussed when members of the American Legion Auxiliary of Post No. 134 met Monday in the Post Home.

Mrs. Cecelia Hoffman, president, presided during the meeting. Mrs. Charles Moss gave the secretary's report.

The new project called "Operation Hometown," is one in which each unit sends their local newspaper to a serviceman in Viet Nam. The serviceman is chosen from a letter he sends to the district office of the Auxiliary and it is forwarded to the proper unit. The local unit received a letter from Sp-4 Russell L. Chester who is stationed in An-Kheny in the 70th Engr. Bn. Unit. They are having The Herald sent to him.

It was announced that the mid-winter conference will be held Mar. 4-5 in the Columbus Sheridan Hotel. The local unit was the first in the Seventh District to reach their quota of members and that district was the first in the state to reach the quota.

A visit to the VA Hospital was planned Feb. 17. Any member who plans to attend is asked to bring a cake. The party is an all-day affair for the veterans and the hospital.

As a community service project all members were asked to bring a book for the new Franklin St. School library at the next meeting Feb. 28.

Mrs. Mary Stephens gave a report on the poppy project to be held in May.

Republican Rhodes Seen Following Dem Lausche's Political Example

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, a country boy who learned big time politics the hard way, is tuning a high-powered Republican bandwagon for a record run sure to attract national attention.

Heading a ticket of unopposed statehouse incumbents, the 56-year-old governor and former Columbus mayor is pointing directly for the Nov. 8 election while Democrats scrap over May 3 primary nominations for all but one post.

It marks the first time since 1954 that Republicans have fielded a state primary slate without contests.

Rhodes already has met quietly on two occasions with GOP candidates to map campaign strategy and extend friendly coattails that often appeared bobbed in previous administrations of both parties. More buddies are slated with the blessings of John S. Andrews, Toledo, new Republican state chairman.

"We want to bring about a maximum degree of cooperation and coordination between the individual campaigns of each candidate and the overall campaign conducted by state headquarters," Andrews said.

"We have very excellent working relations between his office and mine," the chairman added.

Such rapport between the two offices was less evident during the regime of Andrews' predecessor, Ray C. Bliss of Akron, who became national GOP chairman in 1964.

Andrews' observations bolstered reports that a GOP schism, stemming from Barry Goldwater's ill-fated Ohio campaign against President Johnson two years ago, has all but healed.

Rhodes' aloofness at that time, shared by most of the party incumbents, only added to his growing reputation for political savvy now facing an ordeal by fire.

Some of the most formidable Democratic campaigners have declared that they would direct their shafts at Rhodes instead of their primary opponents.

Rhodes shrugs off the prospects and indicates that he will continue along the lines that won him election by a 555,000-vote margin nearly four years ago, after 10 years as state auditor and a similar span as

Columbus mayor.

That victory followed a change in campaign tactics after a sizzling but futile attempt in 1954 to unseat Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. senator. An earlier bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1950 also failed.

In those campaigns, Rhodes drove to the attack only to become convinced that once Ohio voters make up their minds about a candidate, a slashing campaign is unlikely to change their sentiments.

As a result, associates said Rhodes switched to a more positive technique in the Lausche manner that virtually made Ohio's only five-term governor a legend in his time.

Not that Rhodes ever really stops campaigning or loses the common touch that friends credit for bringing the son of a coal miner from his native Jackson County to the state's highest elective office without benefit of a college education.

Although seeking a second four-year term, Rhodes feels that a governor should run his office as though he were standing for election every two years as required before the start of longer terms in 1959.

As a result, Rhodes expects to continue promoting his programs for economic development of the state to boost employment, which he describes as the cure for most social ills.

Right now, Rhodes plans to wait until after Labor Day to launch a campaign "full of surprises" while helping fellow Republicans in a team effort reaching down to the local level.

Meanwhile, members of that team hopefully predict that attacks on the governor will be about as effective as "punching a pillow."

CHAIRMAN — Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati, whose vaccines have protected millions the world over from paralytic polio, will head up this year's sale of Easter Seals in Ohio. The campaign will extend from Mar. 1 to April 10.

Court Orders Alabama To Start Putting Women on Juries of State

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal court, in a ruling unprecedented in the nation's history, has ordered Alabama to start putting women on juries in its state courts.

In the same decision Monday, the three-judge panel also found that rural Lowndes County through the years systematically has kept Negroes off its jury rolls. It ordered the practice halted at once.

From another three-judge court came a ruling which may send some out-of-state motorists to jail in Alabama for traffic offenses.

The judges on that panel agreed with a Lowndes County Negro's contention that he cannot be tried on a reckless driving charge by a justice of the peace whose fees come from fines levied in his court.

The Negro who challenged the right of the justice of the peace to try him was one of those whose complaint brought the federal court order to put more Negroes on the jury list. No racial element was injected into the reckless driving case, however; it would apply to white and Negro defendants alike.

U.S. Intercepts Moon Photos

Yank Monitoring System Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American space official disclosed today the United States has picked up photographs transmitted from the moon by the Soviet spacecraft Luna 9.

The disclosure by Dr. Edward C. Welsh, executive director of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, was the first official word that American technicians as well as those of Great Britain and the Soviet Union have been obtaining the first radio data ever transmitted from the moon.

Welsh told a reporter no decision had been reached on whether the U.S. pictures will be made public. He said he did not know whether they showed the same landscapes as those published by the British and Russians. The photos picked up by the U.S. receiving equipment are being analyzed and evaluated, he added.

"I think it is fairly important for the public to know," Welsh said, "that we don't have to rely completely on Russian statements or British pronouncements in order to find out something about what is going on."

Welsh's disclosure indicates that U.S. space monitoring capabilities are more extensive than generally believed. And the fact that American officials kept the information quiet despite the Soviet and British releases also sheds new light on the secrecy guarding those capabilities.

The North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., operates a worldwide tracking and data collection system which keeps a close watch on satellite and space probe launchings. It also monitors satellite returns and space objects in orbit.

This information is fed to a number of agencies, including the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., operated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Jobless Rate Hits 9-Year Low in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped to a nine-year low of 4 per cent in January and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz predicted it would drop to 3.5 per cent or lower this year.

The Labor Department reported the 4 per cent jobless figure — the long-term interim goal set by White House economic advisers four years ago — while Wirtz made his prediction in testimony before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress.

The jobless rate for teenagers dropped nearly a full percentage point from December, but was still triple the over-all rate at 12 per cent.

Goldstein said it would become increasingly difficult to push down the unemployment rate and would require a strong employment service and government training programs to prepare unskilled workers for labor shortages developing in many areas of the economy.

But, he said, most indicators appeared favorable "for a continued upward thrust of employment."

Although the panel composed of Judge Richard T. Rives of the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Judges Clarence Algood and Frank M. Johnson Jr. threw out Alabama's law against women jurors, they said it can remain in effect until June 1967.

That will give the legislature, meeting again in regular session in May of that year, a chance to determine whether jury service for women should be mandatory, as it is for men, or voluntary. The court said that is one of the practical problems the state needs time to work out.

Alabama, where women already serve on federal court juries, is one of three states whose laws keep them off juries in state courts. The others are Mississippi and South Carolina.

In reaching its conclusion, the court said the U. S. Constitution was never intended as a rigid barrier against changing times, but rather as a living document which must be applied to the "legal cases and controversies of contemporary society."

"Jury service," the judges said, "is a form of participation in the processes of government, a responsibility and a right that should be shared by all citizens."

Consequently, they ruled, a law which denies that right to women violates the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

In its finding of discrimination against potential Negro jurors in the county where two civil rights workers were slain in 1965, the court said the Lowndes County Jury Commission violated state as well as federal law in drawing up the jury list.

State law requires the commission to use such available sources as the tax assessor's list as well as the voters' list in finding prospective jurors. The judges said the Lowndes County commission relied almost entirely on the voter list, which until March 1965 contained the names of no Negroes.

A panel composed of Rives, Johnson and District Judge H. H. Grooms handed down an injunction prohibiting Justice of the Peace J.B. Julian at Lowndesboro from trying John Hulett on the reckless driving charge.

The court said evidence showed Julian received no fee except when he found a defendant guilty and fined him. The fee came out of the court costs added to the fine.

Law enforcement officers said the decision may mean a night in jail for some out-of-state motorists arrested, say, for speeding in areas where no other judge is available after dark.

Except in isolated instances, state law makes no provision for posting of a cash bond. Out-of-state visitors are not permitted to sign their own appearance bonds as Alabama residents are.

BOTTLE MESSAGE ANSWERED FROM PORTUGAL—Mariane Jill Loftes, 13, has received a reply from Portugal to a note she enclosed in a bottle and dropped off Block Island, Narragansett, R.I., more than two years ago. Students at the junior high school wrote 30 notes and the bottles were dropped from a fishing trawler. The experiment was devised to study the flow of the Gulf Stream. Mariane's note was found by a fisherman in Angeras, Portugal, who mailed a reply to her in January.

Raw Sewage Dumping By Cities Is Rapped

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Cities which dump raw sewage into streams and rivers are the biggest offenders in water pollution in the United States, says the vice president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

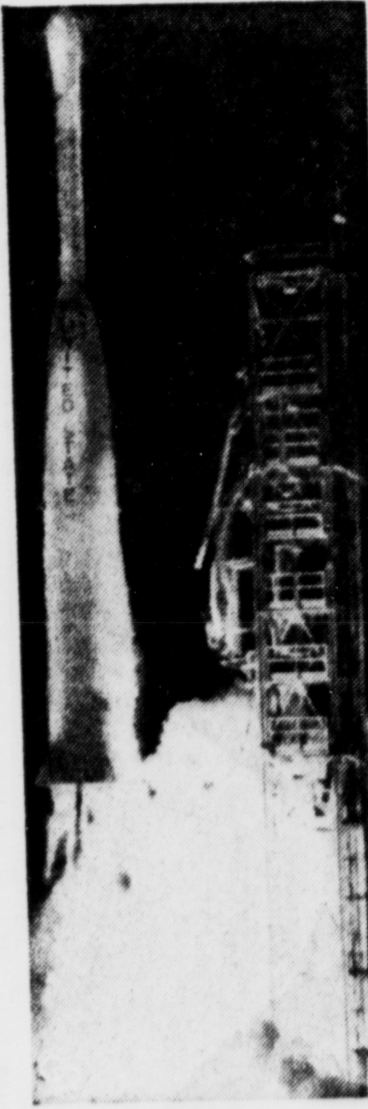

Sam S. Studebaker of Tipp City, Ohio, said the nation would face a daily shortage of a billion gallons of quality water by the end of the century.

Speaking at the 25th annual convention of the association, he said: "We are making headway on soil conservation, but we are slipping backwards on water pollution."

Dear Abby: Call Your Doctor!

DEAR ABBY: Can you list some symptoms of dope addiction? We strongly suspect a member of our family is on some sort of dope, but before going to our family doctor with such a serious matter, we want to be reasonably certain, so as not to cause undue embarrassment to anyone. We do not want to get this person into any trouble with the law if our suspicions are correct. What is the best course to follow? I'll be looking in the paper for your answer.

New Project Is Accepted By Auxiliary

A new project was discussed when members of the American Legion Auxiliary of Post No. 134 met Monday in the Post Home.

Mrs. Cecelia Hoffman, president, presided during the meeting. Mrs. Charles Moss gave the secretary's report.

The new project called "Operation Hometown," is one in which each unit sends their local newspaper to a serviceman in Viet Nam. The serviceman is chosen from a letter he sends to the district office of the Auxiliary and it is forwarded to the proper unit. The local unit received a letter from Sp-4 Russell L. Chester who is stationed in An-Kheny in the 70th Engr Bn. Unit. They are having The Herald sent to him.

It was announced that the mid-winter conference will be held Mar. 4-5 in the Columbus Sheraton Hotel. The local unit was the first in the Seventh District to reach their quota of members and that district was the first in the state to reach the quota.

A visit to the VA Hospital was planned Feb. 17. Any member who plans to attend is asked to bring a cake. The party is an all-day affair for the veterans and the hospital.

As a community service project all members were asked to bring a book for the new Franklin St. School library at the next meeting Feb. 28.

Mrs. Mary Stephens gave a report on the poppy project to be held in May.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Fischer, Route 4, are announcing the engagement of their daughter Lana Kay, to Mr. Robert James Ruck, son of Mrs. Lee Ruck, Route 1, St. Marys, O., and the late Mr. Ruck.

Miss Fischer, a 1964 graduate of Logan Elm High School, was graduated from Columbus Business University. She is now associated with the Department of Economics of Ohio State University.

Mr. Ruck, a 1960 graduate of St. Marys High School, was graduated from the College of Commerce and Administration at Ohio State University.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

White Elephant Sale Held By Guild 38

A white elephant sale was conducted when members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 38 met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Carl Rhil.

Mrs. George Wickline, chairman, appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. Charles Rhil, Mrs. Carl Rhil and Mrs. Wickline. A $25 donation was given to the General Guild. Mrs. John Roll received the traveling prize.

A carry-in dinner was planned for the next meeting, Mar. 2. Mrs. Dwight Rector will be hostess. Easter favors will be made for the hospital.

Refreshments were served.

Citizens Band 'SOS' Brings Prison Term

BOSTON (AP)—A man who sent a false distress call over a citizens band radio has been sentenced to one year in a federal prison.

Richard F. Conefry, 24, of Brockton, Mass., was convicted of sending a message April 23, 1965, that a vessel was sinking in Yarmouth Harbor.

Ohioan Gets Top Post

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The newly elected president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts is Sam Studebaker of Tipp City, Ohio.

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Law enforcement officers, fighting an uphill battle against crime, got some chilling news the other day from the Supreme Court.

The reason for the fingernail biting: the court is going to weigh the constitutionality of undercover agents getting the goods on narcotics peddlers in their own homes without search warrants.

It may not matter, when the justices hand down their decision, that dope pushers prefer to pursue their trade in their kitchen and garages.

What may matter very much is that the Fourth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution assures them — and all Americans — the right to be secure in their homes against "unreasonable searches and seizures."

And, in a practical sense, what certainly matters to federal narcotics agents and to local law officers across the land is that hundreds of arrests have been made under circumstances much like those in the case at hand—Duke Lee Lewis vs. the United States of America.

"Dope peddlers don't like to do their business in the open," explained a spokesman at the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. "They prefer the sanctity of their own home."

The spokesman, who discussed the attack on narcotics without commenting on the court's action, didn't have to explain why the federal agent who visited Lewis at his home in the Roxbury section of Boston in 1964 posed as a narcotics buyer.

If he had identified himself as a narcotics agent and produced a search warrant, no sale would have taken place and he would not have been invited back to buy more marijuana later. The agent did not have a search warrant.

Thus the constitutional question is put squarely by Lewis' lawyer: "Can a federal officer avoid the necessity of obtaining a search warrant and gain entrance to the home of one suspected of a crime by disguising himself for the purpose of soliciting a crime and obtaining evidence to be used against the owner?"

When Lewis appealed his conviction under the federal narcotics law to the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston three judges flatly rejected his Fourth Amendment argument.

"The happy days for law violators that this claim would produce are not to be," they said.

But the Supreme Court, which has ruled on several Fourth Amendment cases with mixed results, may use the Lewis case as a vehicle for giving greater strength to this Bill of Rights protection.

Then law-abiding Americans and dope peddlers alike will have new reason to echo these words of the 17th century English jurist Sir Edward Coke: "Man's house is his castle, and one's home is his safest refuge."

2 Ohio Solons Oppose 4-Year Term Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of the congressmen testifying Tuesday against a proposed constitutional amendment to provide four-year House terms were Reps. Jackson E. Betts and Samuel L. Devine, Ohio Republicans. They were heard from at the House Judiciary Committee hearing on the proposal.

No one knows where the Etruscans came from. Their mighty city-states dominated most of the Italian peninsula over 2,000 years ago, then vanished from history following defeat by Romans.

Court Orders Alabama To Start Putting Women on Juries of State

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal court, in a ruling unprecedented in the nation's history, has ordered Alabama to start putting women on juries in its state courts.

In the same decision Monday, the three-judge panel also found that rural Lowndes County through the years systematically has kept Negroes off its jury rolls. It ordered the practice halted at once.

From another three-judge court came a ruling which may send some out-of-state motorists to jail in Alabama for traffic offenses.

The judges on that panel agreed with a Lowndes County Negro's contention that he cannot be tried on a reckless driving charge by a justice of the peace whose fees come from fines levied in his court.

U.S. Intercepts Moon Photos

Yank Monitoring System Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American space official disclosed today the United States has picked up photographs transmitted from the moon by the Soviet spacecraft Luna 9.

The disclosure by Dr. Edward C. Welsh, executive director of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, was the first official word that American technicians as well as those of Great Britain and the Soviet Union have been obtaining the first radio data ever transmitted from the moon.

Welsh told a reporter no decision had been reached on whether the U.S. pictures will be made public. He said he did not know whether they showed the same landscapes as those published by the British and Russians. The photos picked up by the U.S. receiving equipment are being analyzed and evaluated, he added.

"I think it is fairly important for the public to know," Welsh said, "that we don't have to rely completely on Russian statements or British pronouncements in order to find out something about what is going on."

Welsh's disclosure indicates that U.S. space monitoring capabilities are more extensive than generally believed. And the fact that American officials kept the information quiet despite the Soviet and British releases also sheds new light on the secrecy guarding those capabilities.

The North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., operates a worldwide tracking and data collection system which keeps a close watch on satellite and space probe launchings. It also monitors satellite returns and space objects in orbit.

This information is fed to a number of agencies, including the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., operated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Raw Sewage Dumping By Cities Is Rapped

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Cities which dump raw sewage into streams and rivers are the biggest offenders in water pollution in the United States, says the vice president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Sam S. Studebaker of Tipp City, Ohio, said the nation would face a daily shortage of a billion gallons of quality water by the end of the century.

Speaking at the 25th annual convention of the association, he said: "We are making headway on soil conservation, but we are slipping backwards on water pollution."

Pupils Collect Soap For South Vietnamese

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — About 50 pupils at Burlington Junior High School have collected 5,000 bars of soap for the people of South Viet Nam.

U.S. Marines stationed at the South Weymouth base will ship the soap.

and Negro defendants alike. In its finding of discrimination against potential Negro jurors in the county where two civil rights workers were slain in 1965, the court said the Lowndes County Jury Commission violated state as well as federal law in drawing up the jury list.

State law requires the commission to use such available sources as the tax assessor's list as well as the voters' list in finding prospective jurors. The judges said the Lowndes County commission relied almost entirely on the voter list, which until March 1965 contained the names of no Negroes.

A panel composed of Rives, Johnson and District Judge H. H. Grooms handed down an injunction prohibiting Justice of the Peace J.B. Julian at Lowndesboro from trying John Hulett on the reckless driving charge.

The court said evidence showed Julian received no fee except when he found a defendant guilty and fined him. The fee came out of the court costs added to the fine.

Law enforcement officers said the decision may mean a night in jail for some out-of-state motorists arrested, say, for speeding in areas where no other judge is available after dark.

Except in isolated instances, state law makes no provision for posting of a cash bond. Out-of-state visitors are not permitted to sign their own appearance bonds as Alabama residents are.

Consequently, they ruled, a law which denies that right to women violates the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

BOTTLE MESSAGE ANSWERED FROM PORTUGAL—Marlane, 13, has received a reply from Portugal to a note she enclosed in a bottle and dropped off Block Island, Narragansett, R.I., more than two years ago. Students at the junior high school wrote 30 notes and the bottles were dropped from a fishing trawler. The experiment was devised to study the flow of the Gulf Stream. Marlane's note was found by a fisherman in Angeras, Portugal, who mailed a reply to her in January.

Citizens Band 'SOS'
Brings Prison Term
BOSTON (AP)—A man who sent a false distress call over a citizens band radio has been sentenced to one year in a federal prison.
Richard F. Conefry, 24, of Brockton, Mass., was convicted of sending a message April 23, 1965, that a vessel was sinking in Yarmouth Harbor.

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID
For James Marlow
WASHINGTON (AP)—Law enforcement officers, fighting an uphill battle against crime, got some chilling news the other day from the Supreme Court.
The reason for the fingering: the court is going to weigh the constitutionality of undercover agents getting the goods on narcotics peddlers in their own homes without search warrants.
It may not matter, when the justices hand down their decision, that dope pushers prefer to pursue their trade in their kitchen and garages.
What may matter very much is that the Fourth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution assures them — and all Americans — the right to be secure in their homes against "unreasonable searches and seizures."
And, in a practical sense, what certainly matters to federal narcotics agents and to local law officers across the land is that hundreds of arrests have been made under circumstances much like those in the case at hand—Duke Lee Lewis vs. the United States of America.
"Dope peddlers don't like to do their business in the open," explained a spokesman at the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. "They prefer the sanctity of their own home."

The spokesman, who discussed the attack on narcotics without commenting on the court's action, didn't have to explain why the federal agent who visited Lewis at his home in the Roxbury section of Boston in 1964 posed as a narcotics buyer.
If he had identified himself as a narcotics agent and produced a search warrant, no sale would have taken place and he would not have been invited back to buy more marijuana later. The agent did not have a search warrant.

Thus the constitutional question is put squarely by Lewis' lawyer: "Can a federal officer avoid the necessity of obtaining a search warrant and gain entrance to the home of one suspected of a crime by disguising himself for the purpose of soliciting a crime and obtaining evidence to be used against the owner?"
When Lewis appealed his conviction under the federal narcotics law to the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston three judges flatly rejected his Fourth Amendment argument.

"The happy days for law violators that this claim would produce are not to be," they said.
But the Supreme Court, which has ruled on several Fourth Amendment cases with mixed results, may use the Lewis case as a vehicle for giving greater strength to this Bill of Rights protection.
Then law-abiding Americans and dope peddlers alike will have new reason to echo these words of the 17th century English jurist Sir Edward Coke: "Man's house is his castle, and one's home is his safest refuge."

2 Ohio Solons Oppose 4-Year Term Proposal
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of the congressmen testifying Tuesday against a proposed constitutional amendment to provide four-year House terms were Reps. Jackson E. Betts and Samuel L. Devine, Ohio Republicans. They were heard from at the House Judiciary Committee hearing on the proposal.
No one knows where the Etruscans came from. Their mighty city-states dominated most of the Italian peninsula over 2,000 years ago, then vanished from history following defeat by Romans.

Tax on Church Would Raise Revenue, Howls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Taxing church property would add about $21 million revenue for Ohio cities, schools and counties and a lot of controversy in religious circles.

Any proposal to put churches on the property tax rolls would be opposed by many church leaders. But some feel proposals for contributions in lieu of taxes would be received more favorably.

"There is growing support for the idea of a voluntary contribution in return for services a church as a property owner receives from a state," said Dr. John Wilson, executive director of the Ohio Council of Churches.

But he said any suggestion that church property be taxed the way a house or business is taxed would reveal "wide differences of opinion" among churchmen, based largely on the question of separation of church or state.

Ohio has about $577 million worth of church real estate now exempt from taxes, most of it in metropolitan areas.

That amounts to 17.25 per cent. of all tax-exempt real estate in the state. Schools and various government buildings account for most of the property exempted from taxes.

A Cleveland pastor, the Rev. Dennis G. Kuby of the Unitarian Society of Cleveland, plans to ask the society to vote April 22 to contribute $10,000 to the city in lieu of the taxes from which it is exempt.

His idea for a contribution and his suggestion that churches should give up their tax-exempt status drew some support from Cleveland representatives of Episcopal and Methodist churches.

Other churchmen contacted by the Associated Press had mixed reactions. A representative of the Church of Christ said tax exemptions for churches might need some tightening, but he favored continuing them.

A Baptist editor felt exemptions were part of government's obligation to provide a free society for a free church.

A Columbus Methodist leader viewed paying taxes as possibly leading to "a true separation of church and state," saying that churches should be careful of favors accepted from the state, such as tax exemptions.

Some religious leaders, Wilson said, feel exemptions make churches "in a sense subsidized by the state," while others feel "not being taxed by the state is a source of freedom from it."

Pickaway Grange Report

POMONA
The winter session of Pomona Grange 26 was held Saturday at the Grange and 4-H building. The luncheon was prepared and served by Washington Grange, hosts for the event.

During the business session, the worthy master, Dorsey Bumgarner, presided.

In his report of the building fund, John Dowler showed that the debt was decreasing. He called attention to the trophy case, a special addition by and for the Grange Youth. As deputy, Dowler reviewed the purposes and procedures of the recent District Meeting at which representatives from the State and National organization cooperated with the program.

For the youth department, Harold Furniss told of plans for cooperation and competition with district, state, and national projects.

Mrs. John Dowler, home economics chairman, recognized the several ways that subordinate granges had responded to recent appeals — local as well as foreign. She urged subordinate chairmen to promote active interest in the sewing and baking contests and in sale of nut meats.

As Legislative representative of the executive committee, Carl Bennett of Nebraska Grange mentioned several forthcoming issues as well as candidate registration, which needed organized thinking before voting time.

A thank you communication was read from Veteran's Hospital, Chillicothe, for the contribution at Christmas time.

Representatives from each of the eight subordinate granges gave a quarterly report concerning total endeavors and member statistics.

Resolutions of respect were prepared and accepted for Turney Glick, Elliott Crites, and Minnie Hudson, recently deceased Pomona members.

By re-instatement, the membership of Mrs. Mary Valentine of Washington Grange was accepted. A demit was granted to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright who are moving to Indiana.

Paul Dunkle served as pianist for all musical functions of the sessions.

The concluding program, in which all present cooperated, was arranged and supervised by the worthy lecturer, Mrs. Leora Sayre. The beginning feature was a laughing contest in which the four most popular kinds of laugh were heartily exercised.

Ellen Geneva Tootle, and Sandra Tomlinson, students of Brooks Yates School, sang, "We Grangers Are Loyal" and "God Bless America."

The February birthdays of members and guests were recognized. Special mention was given outstanding people and events of February origin. "Mushy" was the reading given by Mrs. Ralph Fisher for Valentine's Day.

Guest speaker and demonstrator was Mrs. Proctor Baughman.

PICKAWAY GRANGE YOUTH

The monthly meeting of the Pickaway Grange Youth was held Monday evening at the Grange and 4-H Building on the Fairgrounds, with president

David Shepherd in charge.

The secretary, Barbara McKenzie, gave the report of the January meeting, followed by the financial report by Wilma Judy. County Youth Chairman Harold Furniss gave a report on the district youth conference held at Teays Valley School on Jan. 18.

The drama committee gave the names of plays selected for approval of the organization for the district contest to be held in June. After much discussion the play "Pardon My Second Scene" was chosen. Parts for the production will be given out at the next meeting.

Practice for the ritualistic team will begin at the meeting on Feb. 21, again to be held at the Grange building at 7:30 p. m. All youth are asked to be present for this very important practice. Orban Birchwell was selected to study possible trials for the team and to present his findings at the next meeting.

Various members agreed to contact young Grangers who were absent informing them of the next meeting and future activities of the youth organization.

Present for the evening business meeting were Mr. and Mrs. David Shepherd, Harold Furniss, Barbara McKenzie, Wilma Judy and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kern, Orban Birchwell, Flem Blair, Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler, Paul Dunkle, and special guest Pomona Master Dorsey Bumgarner.

Cafe Operator To Face Charges

The Ohio Liquor Control Commission will hear two cases involving four violations filed against a local cafe operator Thursday at its Columbus offices.

George J. Haley, doing business as Haley's Cafe, 207 W. Main St., will face charges of selling mixed drinks to minors, selling beer to minors, a minor consuming malt liquor and furnishing beer to a minor.

All citation hearings are open to the public and are held in the commission hearing room, 219 S. High St., Columbus.

Natives Debate Political Solution in Viet War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Vietnamese sources in the United States detect a new ferment beginning to bubble beneath the relative calm that has prevailed in South Viet Nam's politics for the last eight months.

They report a debate going on among politically conscious elements in South Viet Nam. Involved are basic issues of war, peace and the future of Indochina, and the question of whether there is a political way out.

As they describe it, this discussion seems to mirror soul-searching going on in the United States. It would indicate tentative probing to determine whether a door might be opened to the Communists, permitting a political solution.

The informants report interest in the idea of creating an atmosphere in which an offer might be made to leaders of the Viet Cong Communists with the intention of keeping Red China out of Viet Nam at all costs.

This would mean eventually inviting Viet Cong representatives to join a coalition government in the South. These would come from the ranks of those the informants describe as "responsible Communists," meaning those who would want to keep all Viet Nam independent of Red China.

The present regime under Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as chief of state; and the air force commander, Nguyen Cao Ky, as premier, are not apt to welcome Communists into a coalition. Thus, if such a program were to become operative, it might require heavy pressure to induce the military leaders to stand aside, or perhaps an overthrow of the regime.

As some sources sketch the prospects, a civilian premier, acceptable as possible to diverse elements, would be installed. It could be a man like Dr. Pham Huy Quat, who headed a sort of civilianized government for eight months until the military ousted him last June. A Buddhist, he is reported to be held in high regard by many Americans and Saigon civilians.

Then, these informants continue the idea would be to make an approach to the Communist "National Liberation Front" to accept representation in the Saigon government. Thereafter, the way would be opened to trade and political connections with North Viet Nam.

One eminent Vietnamese says he feels that moderate Buddhists and moderate Roman Catholics can develop organizations which can act together to bring public pressure on Ky and Thieu. Such "moderates" exclude elements like the extreme Buddhists led by Thich Tri Quang and the Catholics who were close to Ngo Dinh Diem. Quang played an important role in the Buddhist uprising which preceded President Diem's downfall in November 1963. Some substance seems to be given to the reports in the light of past events. The post-Diem regime under Duong Van Minh was overthrown in 1964. Among those helping in this enterprise were elements who suspected his regime of planning to open a door to the Communists. One of the leading figures in that upheaval, which ushered in the regime of Gen. Nguyen Khanh was Gen. Tran Thien Khiem. Khiem wants war to the finish with Hanoi. Khiem's assignment abroad, away from the political arena, could be viewed as a concession by the military leadership to pressures from those seeking some sort of diplomatic-political solution in Viet Nam.

The seekers of such a solution present the situation in this manner:

— The renewed U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam are "political bombings." If these are limited to roads, bridges and military targets away from Hanoi and Haiphong, the Soviet Union is likely to do nothing about it. This sort of bombing erases what only the Russians — not the Chinese — can replace. This would tend to increase Soviet authority in North Viet Nam, and Saigon's "doves" indicate they would far rather see that than contested Pe-king sway.

— If the bombing should hit either Hanoi or Haiphong port, or if Haiphong should be blocked, the Soviet Union might be forced closer to the Chinese side of the argument.

The Circleville Herald, Wed. Feb. 9, 1966 11

— The Viet Nam situation has an increasing abrasive effect on Moscow's relations with Pe-king. If this continues, the two will reach the point of open break.

— The germ of deviation, as the Chinese view it, is spreading in the North Viet Nam party. There is weariness with the costly war and there is deep-rooted, traditional distrust of China. Such Communists are viewed by some Southern political elements as basically Nationalist, men who would listen to a proposal of a way out, if the offer sounded attractive enough.

GI Medic Is Hailed As Hero

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP)—They're talking about the medic in the 27th Infantry, 25th Division, and what they're saying is all good.

The medic is a private first class and he stopped being ordinary last weekend when the outfit was hit by the Viet Cong during a search of tunnel complexes around Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Wolfhounds, trained in Hawaii, took some casualties and inflicted some, especially when a company came under fire after nightfall.

Out of holes and trenches the Viet Cong poured small arms fire from all directions and that's when the nameless medic showed up. He was hit three times while he was tending the wounded and finally he lost his temper.

He jumped up and ran across to where a sniper had been pumping away for some time. The medic whipped out his pistol and emptied his clip. Exit one sniper. Then he went back to his job.

Capt. Donald G. Winnham, Seattle, Wash., the battalion surgeon, said: "I don't know who that medic was but I'm going to find out. He was one of our real heroes of the day—I'm putting him in for a high decoration."

Savings Bond Ads Due To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department says it plans no changes in its advertisements of U.S. savings bonds—despite the fact that the Securities and Exchange Commission prohibits similar advertising by private sellers of bonds.

The Treasury Department advertises the growth of money investors put into savings bonds. The SEC prohibits such advertising by private sellers of bonds which accumulate interest rather than grow.

"We've been following the same line for years and it hasn't been objected to yet," a Treasury spokesman said.

Tax on Church Would Raise Revenue, Howls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Taxing church property would add about $21 million revenue for Ohio cities, schools and counties and a lot of controversy in religious circles.

Any proposal to put churches on the property tax rolls would be opposed by many church leaders. But some feel proposals for contributions in lieu of taxes would be received more favorably.

"There is growing support for the idea of a voluntary contribution in return for services a church as a property owner receives from a state," said Dr. John Wilson, executive director of the Ohio Council of Churches.

But he said any suggestion that church property be taxed the way a house or business is taxed would reveal "wide differences of opinion" among churchmen, based largely on the question of separation of church or state.

Ohio has about $577 million worth of church real estate now exempt from taxes, most of it in metropolitan areas.

That amounts to 17.25 per cent of all tax-exempt real estate in the state. Schools and various government buildings account for most of the property exempted from taxes.

A Cleveland pastor, the Rev. Dennis G. Kuby of the Unitarian Society of Cleveland, plans to ask the society to vote April 22 to contribute $10,000 to the city in lieu of the taxes from which it is exempt.

His idea for a contribution and his suggestion that churches should give up their tax-exempt status drew some support from Cleveland representatives of Episcopal and Methodist churches.

Other churchmen contacted by the Associated Press had mixed reactions. A representative of the Church of Christ said tax exemptions for churches might need some tightening, but he favored continuing them.

A Baptist editor felt exemptions were part of government's obligation to provide a free society for a free church.

A Columbus Methodist leader viewed paying taxes as possibly leading to "a true separation of church and state," saying that churches should be careful of favors accepted from the state, such as tax exemptions.

Some religious leaders, Wilson said, feel exemptions make churches "in a sense subsidized by the state," while others feel "not being taxed by the state is a source of freedom from it."

Pickaway Grange Report

POMONA

The winter session of Pomona Grange 26 was held Saturday at the Grange and 4-H building. The luncheon was prepared and served by Washington Grange, hosts for the event.

During the business session, the worthy master, Dorsey Bumgarner, presided.

In his report of the building fund, John Dowler showed that the debt was decreasing. He called attention to the trophy case, a special addition by and for the Grange Youth. As deputy, Dowler reviewed the purposes and procedures of the recent District Meeting at which representatives from the State and National organization cooperated with the program.

For the youth department, Harold Furniss told of plans for cooperation and competition with district, state, and national projects.

Mrs. John Dowler, home economics chairman, recognized the several ways that subordinate granges had responded to recent appeals — local as well as foreign. She urged subordinate chairmen to promote active interest in the sewing and baking contests and in sale of nut meats.

As Legislative representative of the executive committee, Carl Bennett of Nebraska Grange mentioned several forthcoming issues as well as candidate registration, which needed organized thinking before voting time.

A thank you communication was read from Veteran's Hospital, Chillicothe, for the contribution at Christmas time.

Representatives from each of the eight subordinate granges gave a quarterly report concerning total endeavors and member statistics.

Resolutions of respect were prepared and accepted for Turney Glick, Elliott Crites, and Minnie Hudson, recently deceased Pomona members.

By re-instatement, the membership of Mrs. Mary Valentine of Washington Grange was accepted. A demit was granted to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright who are moving to Indiana.

Paul Dunkle served as pianist for all musical functions of the sessions.

The concluding program, in which all present cooperated, was arranged and supervised by the worthy lecturer, Mrs. Leora Sayre. The beginning feature was a laughing contest in which the four most popular kinds of laugh were heartily exercised.

Ellen Geneva Tootle, and Sandra Tomlinson, students of Brooks Yates School, sang, "We Grangers Are Loyal" and "God Bless America."

The February birthdays of members and guests were recognized. Special mention was given outstanding people and events of February origin. "Mushy" was the reading given by Mrs. Ralph Fisher for Valentine's Day.

Guest speaker and demonstrator was Mrs. Proctor Baughman.

PICKAWAY GRANGE YOUTH

The monthly meeting of the Pickaway Grange Youth was held Monday evening at the Grange and 4-H Building on the Fairgrounds, with president

David Shepherd in charge.

The secretary, Barbara McKenzie, gave the report of the January meeting, followed by the financial report by Wilma Judy. County Youth Chairman Harold Furniss gave a report on the district youth conference held at Teays Valley School on Jan. 18.

The drama committee gave the names of plays selected for approval of the organization for the district contest to be held in June. After much discussion the play "Pardon My Second Scene" was chosen. Parts for the production will be given out at the next meeting.

Practice for the ritualistic team will begin at the meeting on Feb. 21, again to be held at the Grange building at 7:30 p. m. All youth are asked to be present for this very important practice. Orban Birchwell was selected to study possible trials for the team and to present his findings at the next meeting.

Various members agreed to contact young Grangers who were absent informing them of the next meeting and future activities of the youth organization.

Present for the evening business meeting were Mr. and Mrs. David Shepherd, Harold Furniss, Barbara McKenzie, Wilma Judy and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kern, Orban Birchwell, Flem Blair, Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler, Paul Dunkle, and special guest Pomona Master Dorsey Bumgarner.

Cafe Operator To Face Charges

The Ohio Liquor Control Commission will hear two cases involving four violations filed against a local cafe operator Thursday at its Columbus offices.

George J. Haley, doing business as Haley's Cafe, 207 W. Main St., will face charges of selling mixed drinks to minors, selling beer to minors, a minor consuming malt liquor and furnishing beer to a minor.

All citation hearings are open to the public and are held in the commission hearing room, 219 S. High St., Columbus.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Vietnamese sources in the United States detect a new ferment beginning to bubble beneath the relative calm that has prevailed in South Viet Nam's politics for the last eight months.

They report a debate going on among politically conscious elements in South Viet Nam. Involved are basic issues of war, peace and the future of Indochina, and the question of whether there is a political way out.

As they describe it, this discussion seems to mirror soul-searching going on in the United States. It would indicate tentative probing to determine whether a door might be opened to the Communists, permitting a political solution.

The informants report interest in the idea of creating an atmosphere in which an offer might be made to leaders of the Viet Cong Communists with the intention of keeping Red China out of Viet Nam at all costs.

This would mean eventually inviting Viet Cong representatives to join a coalition government in the South. These would come from the ranks of those the informants describe as "responsible Communists," meaning those who would want to keep all Viet Nam independent of Red China.

The present regime under Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu as chief of state; and the air force commander, Nguyen Cao Ky, as premier, are not apt to welcome Communists into a coalition. Thus, if such a program were to become operative, it might require heavy pressure to induce the military leaders to stand aside, or perhaps an overthrow of the regime.

As some sources sketch the prospects, a civilian premier, acceptable as possible to diverse elements, would be installed. It could be a man like Dr. Pham Huy Quat, who headed a sort of civilianized government for eight months until the military ousted him last June. A Buddhist, he is reported to be held in high regard by many Americans and Saigon civilians.

Then, these informants continue the idea would be to make an approach to the Communist "National Liberation Front" to accept representation in the Saigon government. Thereafter, the way would be opened to trade and political connections with North Viet Nam.

One eminent Vietnamese says he feels that moderate Buddhists and moderate Roman Catholics can develop organizations which can act together to bring public pressure on Ky and Thieu. Such "moderates" exclude elements like the extreme Buddhists led by Thich Tri Quang and the Catholics who were close to Ngo Dinh Diem. Quang played an important role in the Buddhist uprising which preceded President Diem's downfall in November 1963. Some substance seems to be given to the reports in the light of past events. The post-Diem regime under Duong Van Minh was overthrown in 1964. Among those helping in this enterprise were elements who suspected his regime of planning to open a door to the Communists. One of the leading figures in that upheaval, which ushered in the regime of Gen. Nguyen Khanh was Gen. Tran Thien Khiem. Khiem wants war to the finish with Hanoi. Khiem's assignment abroad, away from the political arena, could be viewed as a concession by the military leadership to pressures from those seeking some sort of diplomatic-political solution in Viet Nam.

The seekers of such a solution present the situation in this manner:

— The renewed U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam are "political bombings." If these are limited to roads, bridges and military targets away from Hanoi and Haiphong, the Soviet Union is likely to do nothing about it. This sort of bombing erases what only the Russians — not the Chinese — can replace. This would tend to increase Soviet authority in North Viet Nam, and Saigon's "doves" indicate they would far rather see that than uncontested Peking sway.

— If the bombing should hit either Hanoi or Haiphong port, or if Haiphong should be blocked, the Soviet Union might be forced closer to the Chinese side of the argument.

— The Viet Nam situation has an increasing abrasive effect on Moscow's relations with Peking. If this continues, the two will reach the point of open break.

— The germ of deviation, as the Chinese view it, is spreading in the North Viet Nam party. There is weariness with the costly war and there is deep-rooted, traditional distrust of China. Such Communists are viewed by some Southern political elements as basically Nationalist, men who would listen to a proposal of a way out, if the offer sounded attractive enough.

GI Medic Is Hailed As Hero

CU CHI, South Viet Nam (AP)—They're talking about the medic in the 27th Infantry, 25th Division, and what they're saying is all good.

The medic is a private first class and he stopped being ordinary last weekend when the outfit was hit by the Viet Cong during a search of tunnel complexes around Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Wolfhounds, trained in Hawaii, took some casualties and inflicted some, especially when a company came under fire after nightfall.

Out of holes and trenches the Viet Cong poured small arms fire from all directions and that's when the nameless medic showed up. He was hit three times while he was tending the wounded and finally he lost his temper.

He jumped up and ran across to where a sniper had been pumping away for some time. The medic whipped out his pistol and emptied his clip. Exit one sniper. Then he went back to his job.

Capt. Donald G. Winninham, Seattle, Wash., the battalion surgeon, said: "I don't know who that medic was but I'm going to find out. He was one of our real heroes of the day—I'm putting him in for a high decoration."

Savings Bond Ads Due To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department says it plans no changes in its advertisements of U.S. savings bonds—despite the fact that the Securities and Exchange Commission prohibits similar advertising by private sellers of bonds.

The Treasury Department advertises the growth of money investors put into savings bonds. The SEC prohibits such advertising by private sellers of bonds which accumulate interest rather than grow.

"We've been following the same line for years and it hasn't been objected to yet," a Treasury spokesman said.

Teen-Age Survey Declares Protest Movies Are 'In'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Beach party movies are out with the "in" crowd of teen-agers. Protest pictures are in.

This is the word from American International, caterers to the teen-age trade in films. The firm announced its product for the coming year and — gleep! — no beach pictures.

American International is the pioneering company that built its millions on bountiful babes twisting on the sands of Santa Monica. Such films are passe, but there is no need for those girls to turn in their bikinis. They will still be exposing acres of skin, but in new locales.

The source for this intelligence is Louis M. Heyward, an earnest, fortyish New Yorker who bears the title of director of motion picture and television development for American International. A veteran of radio and television, he qualifies for his assignment by having served three years as producer of the Dick Clark show and by having a pair of teen-age types in his own home.

Heyward's observations on teen-age trends:

"We have left the beach to Universal, Columbia and other studios which won't find much left there. The beach pictures ran their course. We used them for a voyeuristic approach, though they were perfectly clean — the Legion of Decency never objected to our films.

"But now that type of film has been negated by the plethora of sex-oriented films like 'What's New Pussycat?' there isn't much farther you can go.

"The next big area for teen-age films is protest. Teen-agers emphasize with protest, because they are in revolt against their parents.

"Among the movies we are planning for the coming season are subjects about stock-car racing and about the Hell's Angels type of motorcycle club, both of which represent a protest against society. These will be moral tales; there will be the good guys and the bad guys. But we will show the reasons for young people wanting

Ohio Pollution Panel Takes New Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eight Ashtabula County industries assured the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board they are "very actively engaged" in treating industrial wastes and won provisional permit renewals Tuesday to empty matter into Buckeye waters.

The board voted to renew their permits for six months effective Feb. 15, after which to go against the dictates of the Establishment."

another progress report is to be made.

The board headed by State Health Director Emmett W. Arnold also advised Allen County officials to go ahead with plans for sewage facilities in an area that will include a branch campus of Ohio State University.

The move was decided upon despite notice by the Department of Public Works that the state will build facilities in the university area unless the county started them by July 1.

The board also ordered Greenfield, Highland County, to cease polluting "state waters" from its overloaded sewage treatment plant by Feb. 15. Health Department engineers told the board the problem stems from a burden placed on the plant by Collins Packing Co., "an industry the community does not want to lose."

The oldest botanic gardens in the Western Hemisphere were established in 1765 in Kingstown on the West Indian island of St. Vincent.

Cincinnati Still Remembers 1896 And Its 'Pearl Bryan Murder Case'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Back around the turn of the century this ballad would have found an immediate response around Cincinnati and the rest of the country:

"Her aged parents, we know full well,
What a fortune they would give
If Pearl could but to them return,
Her natural life to live.
"In came Pearl Bryan's sister
And falling to her knees,
Begging of Scott Jackson:
"My sister's head, O please!"

The Pearl Bryan murder, which local newspapers called "the crime of the century," is now all but forgotten except among old timers or crime story buffs. Once in a while, school children touring the Campbell County Court House at Newport, Ky., just across the Ohio River, are shown the old valise in which Pearl's killers are believed to have carried her severed head. But it means little to them.

The date of Feb. 1 brought back memories to the old timers — memories of "The Pearl Bryan Murder Case."

It was 70 years ago on Saturday, Feb. 1, 1896 that a young farm hand named John J. Plummer found the headless corpse of a young woman in some bloody privet bushes near a country

Furloughs OK'd For Prisoners

U.S. Plan Seeks To Aid Family Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trust federal prisoners soon will be allowed to spend weekends with their families outside prison walls.

The unprecedented furloughs, federal prisons Director Myrl E. Alexander said Tuesday "will strengthen and maintain family ties."

Under a law enacted by Congress last year, nearly 100 minimum-security prisoners have left confinement for deathbed visits, funerals and pre-release job interviews.

"These men can now leave prison unescorted to visit the dying," Alexander said in an interview in which he disclosed the extension of the furlough plan. "But how much more important it is to strengthen their ties with the living."

He sees the furlough plan as a "valuable treatment device that can make a major contribution to a man's preparation for the outside world."

Under the new regulations, he said, prisoners will be given 48-hour passes to visit their wives, children, parents "or other responsible members of the immediate family."

If the hometown is too far away to make such visits practical, the prisoners will be allowed to meet relatives in a nearby community.

Except for staying within the limits of the area agreed on in advance — and, of course, staying out of trouble — there will be no restrictions on their activities with their families, Alexander said.

"They can have a meal in a restaurant, stay in a hotel, go to the movies, or go to church together," he said.

The privilege will not be extended to men convicted of violent crimes or those identified with "large-scale organized crime activities."

Each prisoner will be limited to four such furloughs a year.

Judicious Reply

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — Judge Joe Jarboe, noted for his dry sense of humor, was riding a bus with a tourist who insisted upon belittling everything he saw in Kentucky.

Kentuckians, the man said, are slow; never get anything done.

About that time, the bus passed the 351-foot-high Jefferson Davis monument at Fairview.

"What's that?" the man asked.

"Beats me," replied the judge. "I was through here the other day, and it wasn't built then."

Astronauts Won't Rust

HICKSVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — A new coating for refractory metals to protect space vehicles from oxidation during re-entry has been developed by Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

The coating protects columbium, tantalum and molybdenum and their alloys from oxidation at the reduced pressures and high temperatures experienced in space.

lane just west of Fort Thomas, Ky. The autopsy showed she was pregnant.

Her killers had cut off her head to prevent identification, but sharp detective work led to an arrest four days later. And on March 20, 1897, after separate trials, Scott Jackson, 28, and Alonzo Walling, 20, both of them students at the old Ohio Dental College in Cincinnati, were hanged in the courtyard of the Newport jail.

A headline on the execution story in the Cincinnati Enquirer on March 21, said, in part: "Sheathed in Justice's Sword Pearl Bryan's Foul Murder is Avenged."

It was a murder case that involved authorities of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Pearl Bryan's head was never found and police still think it was thrown into the Ohio River along with part of her clothing.

Even though the body was found in Kentucky, Police Chief Philip Deitch of Cincinnati, one of his best detectives across the river to assist Sheriff Jule Plummer. The detectives, Cal Crim and Jack McDermott, were instrumental in solving the case.

Their main clue was a label on the dead woman's size 3-B shoes. It read "Lewis & Hayes, Greencastle, Ind." Plummer and the detectives had to wait until Monday to go to the quiet Indiana college town because no Cincinnati public funds could be disbursed Sunday for the detectives' train tickets.

Lewis & Hayes had sold only two pairs of shoes of that small size and make. One had been sold to Mrs. Pearl Kesterson, who turned out to be alive and well in southern Indiana, and the other to Pearl Bryan, pretty 23-year-old daughter of a wealthy Greencastle farmer and businessman.

The officers traveled to the Bryan homestead two miles away and Pearl's relatives identified clothing Plummer and the detectives had brought along.

Pearl's grief-stricken parents were able to furnish the detectives with one lead — the only person in Cincinnati that Pearl knew was Scott Jackson, a dentistry student she had met the previous summer when he visited in Greencastle.

"Bit by bit the pieces of the jigsaw puzzle fitted themselves into one of the most complete pictures ever built by circumstantial evidence," Detective Crim wrote years later.

"Pearl Bryan had come to Cincinnati to marry Scott Jackson. Instead she was met with the suggestion to submit to a criminal operation. She refused and prepared to return home," he added.

Jackson was arrested Wednesday night and his roommate Walling a few hours later. Each accused the other of the killing while denying his own guilt.

The suspects were taken to the funeral home where Pearl's headless body was laid out in her white high school graduation dress. Here, in the presence of Pearl's relatives, police asked Jackson and Walling who had killed the girl.

Each man accused the other. Mrs. Mabel Stanley, Pearl's sister, got down on her knees to ask Jackson where the head was — as described in the ballad — but all the young man would say was:

"I can't tell you anything about it."

During the trials, a Negro coachman described how he drove the two men and Pearl from the saloon across the Ohio River into the vicinity of Fort Thomas. He said she groaned continuously and Scott Jackson rode on the cab seat with him, gun in hand. In the lonely hills near Fort Thomas, the men dragged the girl out of the cab and the cab driver became frightened and fled.

One major issue in both trials was whether Pearl Bryan had been alive when her head was severed. Expert government witnesses testified that the amount of blood on the bushes meant she was alive at the time.

Both men were found guilty of murder — Jackson on May 14 and Walling on June 18 — and sentenced to be hanged.

Police and newspapermen at the time regarded Walling, of Hamilton, Ohio, as a weak-willed and unsophisticated person who was completely dominated by his older roommate.

"I have always felt that he was only a simple country boy who fell under the influence of an older and much more sinister man, from whom he became a more or less willing tool," Crim wrote years later in his account of the case.

Farms in 3 Counties Get Emergency Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Federal emergency livestock feed program aid is being made available to farmers in Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson counties who have suffered severe loss of crops, hay or pasture. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced this Tuesday in response to Gov. James A. Rhodes' request.

At the same time, Freeman rejected requests by Rhodes and the State USDA Disaster Committee to designate Logan and Union counties for similar help.

Ohio Welfare Reorganization Is Anticipated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Reorganization of Ohio's welfare program may bring in more federal dollars to help the state's poor and tighten efficiency to save state funds, Welfare Director Denver L. White says.

The director describes the reorganization law which takes effect July 1 as "one of the greatest things that ever happened to Ohio" and says he anticipates "tangible" results.

White and Gov. James A. Rhodes pushed hard for the legislation enacted by the 106th General Assembly. They said the law will consolidate what up to now has been "isolated, piecemeal" programs into a unified effort that may bring "more realistic benefits" to those in need.

"The whole idea is to get more of the federal funds that are available and to make the welfare dollar go further," White said.

Major changes will involve transfer of Aid to the Aged—

New Foreman Is Appointed At Du Pont

DAVID D. TIMMONS

An appointment in works engineering was announced today by officials at Du Pont's Circleville film plant.

Assigned as a foreman in the section was David D. Timmons, Chillicothe. He joined Du Pont in 1956 as a maintenance mechanic.

A graduate of Centralia High School in Ross County, he served four years in the U. S. Navy.

High Court Receives Appeals for 3 Boys
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court received appeals Tuesday on behalf of three Cleveland youths convicted in a June 12, 1963, playground attack on a boy and his 15-year-old girl friend in Cleveland.

only one of the state's five public assistance categories operated at the state level—to the county welfare departments.

An estimated 800 employees, including case workers and clerical help, will be shifted to county departments to bolster their staffs and help eliminate duplication of efforts under the present set up.

Eliminated will be 28 city welfare departments now operating poor relief programs. Their functions will be absorbed by county agencies. Poor relief is the only one of Ohio's five public assistance categories which does not receive federal funds.

The others receive up to 55-60 per cent of their funds from the federal government. Besides Aid to the Aged, they are Aid to the Blind, Aid to the Totally Disabled, and Aid to Dependent Children, including Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC, ADCU).

New financing provisions will encourage county departments to lower poor relief rolls by placing recipients, where possible, from the program paid for entirely by the state into one of the other four categories eligible for federal money.

Counties will have to pay only 10 per cent of the non-federal cost of the four subsidized programs but must bear 25 per cent of the cost of poor relief.

"This will provide more incentive for counties to get able recipients off poor relief and into a federal program such as ADC," assistant welfare director, Robert B. Canary, explained.

Poor relief rolls now account for only 20,000 of the state's 358,000 public assistance recipients but the percentage was seven times that (143,000) in 1963 when the state began a concentrated effort to qualify for more federal funds.

White, who describes the lowering of poor relief as his major goal, said Ohio led the nation in poor relief when he took office.

"Today with its 20,000 it ranks third, behind New York's 50,000 and Pennsylvania's 32,000.

The reduction in Ohio's poor relief program resulted primarily with the beginning of Ohio's ADCU program in 1964 under which unemployed parents were made eligible. Under the old ADC program, families could qualify only in the absence of a bread winner.

White and Canary both said "chiseling," or attempts by some to "ride" relief rolls, is a small problem and not a significant drain on welfare resources.

When he became director, White said, he believed Ohio's welfare program was one of "isolation."

"There were no adequate means of communication among various city, state and county departments. There was duplication all over the place," he said.

The director said one of his first moves was to set up regional offices in six Ohio cities and to name directors for them. They work with local departments, answering questions and taking care of other matters that previously had to be handled in Columbus.

"Before we did this, we were swamped here at the main office with hundreds of calls every day. We felt money was being wasted. What we have tried to do is get the most out of the welfare dollar."

Teen-Age Survey Declares Protest Movies Are 'In'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Beach party movies are out with the "in" crowd of teen-agers. Protest pictures are in.

This is the word from American International, caterers to the teen-age trade in films. The firm announced its product for the coming year and — glee! — no beach pictures.

American International is the pioneering company that built its millions on bountiful babes twining on the sands of Santa Monica. Such films are passe, but there is no need for those girls to turn in their bikinis. They will still be exposing acres of skin, but in new locales.

The source for this intelligence is Louis M. Heyward, an earnest, fortyish New Yorker who bears the title of director of motion picture and television development for American International. A veteran of radio and television, he qualifies for his assignment by having served three years as producer of the Dick Clark show and by having a pair of teen-age types in his own home.

Heyward's observations on teen-age trends:

"We have left the beach to Universal, Columbia and other studios which won't find much left there. The beach pictures ran their course. We used them for a voyeuristic approach, though they were perfectly clean — the Legion of Decency never objected to our films.

"But now that type of film has been negated by the plethora of sex-oriented films like 'What's New Pussycat?' there isn't much farther you can go.

"The next big area for teen-age films is protest. Teen-agers emphasize with protest, because they are in revolt against their parents.

"Among the movies we are planning for the coming season are subjects about stock-car racing and about the Hell's Angels type of motorcycle club, both of which represent a protest against society. These will be moral tales; there will be the good guys and the bad guys. But we will show the reasons for young people wanting

Ohio Pollution Panel Takes New Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eight Ashtabula County industries assured the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board they are "very actively engaged" in treating industrial wastes and won provisional permit renewals Tuesday to empty matter into Buckeye waters.

The board voted to renew their permits for six months effective Feb. 15, after which another progress report is to be made.

The board headed by State Health Director Emmett W. Arnold also advised Allen County officials to go ahead with plans for sewage facilities in an area that will include a branch campus of Ohio State University.

The move was decided upon despite notice by the Department of Public Works that the state will build facilities in the university area unless the county started them by July 1.

The board also ordered Greenfield, Highland County, to cease polluting "state waters" from its overloaded sewage treatment plant by Feb. 15. Health Department engineers told the board the problem stems from a burden placed on the plant by Collins Packing Co., "an industry the community does not want to lose."

The oldest botanic gardens in the Western Hemisphere were established in 1765 in Kingstown on the West Indian island of St. Vincent.

A FALLING OUT among thieves is occurring, you might say, as Cuban Premier Fidel Castro (above) denounces Red China for "betraying" Cuba with the "economic aggression" of reneging on a sugar-for-rice trade deal. He said Red China has "added to the . . . Yankee blockade against Cuba."

Vermont Legislative Proposal Woos Skiers

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — A bill before the Vermont House would appropriate $50,000 to encourage topflight skiers to attend Vermont colleges.

The bill called it "in the public interest of the state that talented young skiers be encouraged and assisted" to attend Vermont schools and represent them in national and international skiing events.

Prosecutor Says Mossler Trial Is 'Nasty Case'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Blonde Candace Mossler, her patience waning, faces a new ordeal today. The state will be spotlighting what it says is the motive for the murder of her multimillionaire husband — an illicit affair with her nephew.

Today could prove to be even more trying than Tuesday's session, which ended with Mrs. Mossler shaking her head and hissing "liar" at state witnesses.

The state declined to pin itself down on today's witness lineup. But on call were residents of Houston, Tex. The attractive Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 39, sprang to social prominence there with the help of her slain husband's $33-million banking and loan empire.

Mrs. Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, are charged with slaying her 69-year-old husband, Jacques.

Time and again, Judge Schulz sent the all-male jury out of the courtroom while he patiently smoothed out roaring legal clashes between the state and the defense.

It was almost anticlimactic when state testimony ended with the soft voice of Miss Cleo Consuegra, 21, who used her maiden name although now married. A bad check charge placed her in the Dade County jail last August when Mrs. Mossler became a temporary inmate, before gaining release in $50,000 bail.

"I was her bunkmate, I had a bunk over her," said Miss Consuegra, a tall, black-haired woman.

"We talked a lot," she testified. "First she told me that her husband was a homosexual."

The defense contends Mossler could have been bludgeoned and beaten to death by fellow inhabitants of a weird sexual underworld.

"At first," Miss Consuegra continued, "Mrs. Mossler said Powers hadn't been in Miami (at the time of the Mossler slaying), then she said he was in Miami. I asked her why she changed. She said he wasn't a member of the family and she didn't want him brought into this. I asked her where he was on the night of the murder, and she said she guessed he was having a drink."

Mrs. Mossler shook her head and called "Liar" at Miss Consuegra's testimony. But the blonde defendant had been far more vocal earlier in the day. An articulate convict had testified she had given him a $7,000 downpayment in 1962 to kill her husband.

"I have never seen or heard of this man," Mrs. Mossler cried in a voice audible through most of the courtroom.

The witness was Billy Frank Mulvey, 35, who insisted he was a thief but never a burglar.

By contrast, Powers never flinched when Mulvey testified, with prison jargon and cell block cynicism, that Powers admitted to him the stabbing of Mossler.

Mulvey said he was propelled into the Mossler case by a long arm of coincidence thrust from the death row of Texas State Penitentiary by a double murderer, Howard Stickney, who died in the electric chair in May 1962.

Mulvey testified that, as an old friend of Stickney, he went looking between prison terms for Mrs. Mossler, because he had some letters from her from Stickney's death cell.

Mulvey did not outline the nature of the letters. On cross-examination, it was suggested that Mrs. Mossler, and another Houston woman, had interested themselves in Stickney's case because they felt he was not receiving full justice.

"I felt the evidence was improper," Mrs. Mossler told newsmen out of court. Mulvey said he finally caught up with Mrs. Mossler and gave her the letters and she subsequently asked him to "make a hit," that is to kill her husband.

He was the third state witness to testify that Mrs. Mossler or Powers or both had solicited a kill-for-hire disposal of Mossler.

Mulvey testified that Mrs. Mossler gave him $7,000 in an envelope as a downpayment. He wanted $25,000, he said, so he stalled Mrs. Mossler off, spent the money, and never saw her again.

Then, Mulvey, now serving the tail end of a five-year thiev-ery sentence, detailed the coincidence that he said brought him into the Dade County courthouse on this mild Florida day.

He testified that he found himself in the Harris County jail in Houston at the time Powers was first arrested, in July 1964, in the Jacques Mossler murder.

"I got to talking to him," Mulvey went on, "and I told him I knew Candace Mossler — then he told me he killed Jacques Mossler."

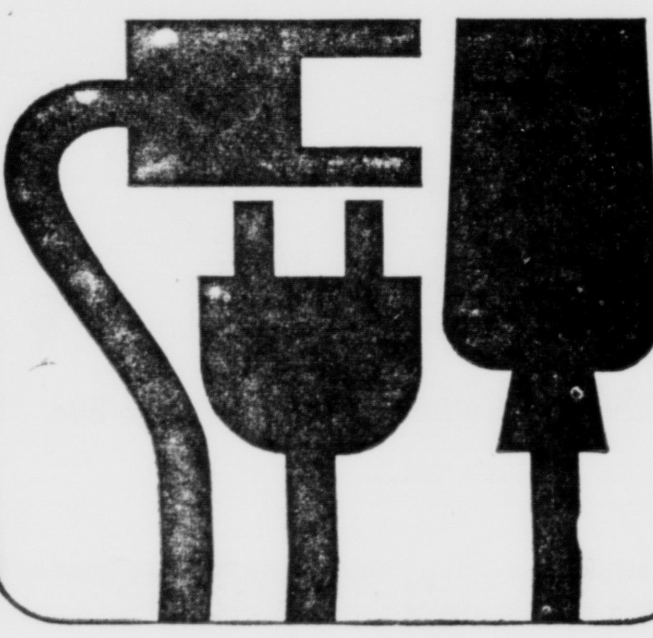

"He didn't tell me nothing about how he killed him except he stabbed him. I didn't ask. I've got my own troubles."

Cincy-Cleveland Worker Shortage Is Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland and Cincinnati were among cities discussed Tuesday concerning what Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told the Senate-House Economic Committee is a manpower shortage in the Great Lakes area.

Arthur M. Ross, Bureau of Labor Statistics commissioner, testified that Cleveland with 2.8 per cent unemployment is experiencing backlogs of orders and longer delivery schedules. Shortages of workers in Cincinnati, Ross said, have begun to impede production in machine tool, metal fabricating and aircraft industries there. He said Cincinnati unemployment rate was at 3.2 per cent.

Tiger Matmen Drop Meet At Lancaster

The Circleville wrestling team dropped a 28-18 decision to the host school Lancaster Gales yesterday afternoon.

It was the last meet for the Tigers until Feb. 19 when they travel to Wilmington.

The Tigers lost the first class, battled to draws in the next two but won the 128 pound class as Craig Benzenberg decisioned Dan Bresler, 4-2.

Wilmington has a 6-3 dual meet record.

103 — Jerry Ailes (L) decisioned Steve Nelson (C), 8-4.

112 — Mark Lindsey (C), Tim Mott (L), draw

123 — John Butts (C), Randy Groff (L), draw

Kent Seeks To Salvage Its Prestige

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kent State, out of the Mid-American Conference basketball running which moves into its crucial stages this week, tried to salvage some outside prestige Tuesday night but withered before a 63-point Penn State second half and lost to the Nittany Lions 94-72.

Otterbein, very much in the Ohio Conference title picture, belted league foe Marietta 70-57.

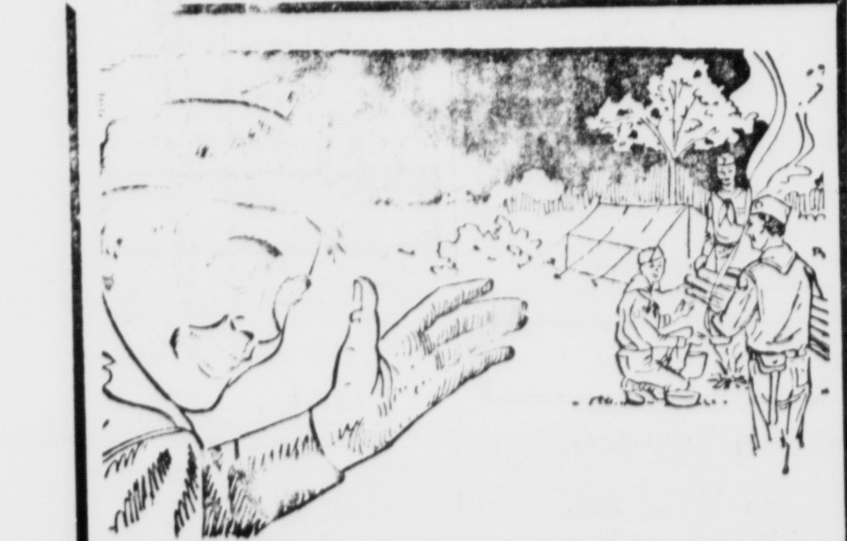

In the MAC, Ohio University visits Miami and Toledo invades Western Michigan tonight, then the teams swap opponents Saturday. Miami is 7-1 and runner-up Toledo 4-1 heading into the latter portion of their 12-game MAC round-robins.

In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein now is 9-3 with two games left and awaits the outcome of tonight's Wooster (10-2) at Mount Union (7-2) and Oberlin at Akron (8-2) tussles which will shuffle the top three.

In other Ohio college activity Tuesday night, Wittenberg beat Capital 78-65 in the OC, Al Knott's layup gave Cedarville a 56-55 nod over Ashland in the Mid-Ohio Conference, John Carroll was victimized by Presidents' Conference leader Bethany 93-77, and Malone ripped Fort Wayne Bible 101-78.

Akron Slated To Host Regional NCAA Test

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The NCAA College Division Midwest Regional basketball tournament will be staged here again this year, it was announced in Kansas City Tuesday. The University of Akron and the Ohio Conference will be co-hosts for the four-team competition March 4-5.

Congratulations to the Boy Scouts and Their Adult Leaders

From Feb. 7-13, over 5 million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and Adult leaders will observe their 56th birthday. Our best wishes go to this splendid organization whose efforts to strengthen America through the development of character deserves our continuous backing and support.

Wildcat-Mustang Battle Caps Cage Action in County

The big basketball game this week for Pickaway County Schools is Friday at Laurelville where Westfall continues its battle for the Scioto Valley Conference crown.

Other action Friday finds Teays Valley hosting Hamilton Twp. in South Suburban League action and Huntington Twp. playing at Logan Elm in a non-league tilt.

Westfall currently owns a 3-0 record in the SVC, having beaten Paint Valley, Unioto and Logan Elm.

The Westfall-Piketon basketball game originally scheduled Feb. 18, has been postponed until Feb. 21, it was announced today by Judson Lanman, Westfall executive head. The reserve tilt will start at 6:30 p. m.

The change was made after Westfall was paired with Columbus St. Mary in the sectional Tournament 2:30 p. m. Feb. 19.

A game scheduled Feb. 19 with Hamilton Twp. has definitely been cancelled, Lanman said.

A win against the unpredictable Wildcats can assure the Mustangs of a share of the title and give them the inside track to win it all. Only Piketon, winless in 14 starts this season, will remain on the schedule.

NEIL COLEMAN, veteran forward for Westfall, is the most potent weapon on the Larry Wilson coached team.

He is averaging 18 points and 14 rebounds per game. Backing Coleman up are Tom Hamman, Brad Thompson, Tom Scribner, Tom Beard and Ray Mowery. All are seniors.

Writer Says Mays To Get $125,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A sports columnist has reported that Willie Mays already has signed a $125,000 contract that will make the San Francisco Giants' center fielder the highest-paid player in baseball history.

But club Vice President Charles (Chub) Feeney says, "I think the report is a little premature. We'll have an announcement about that in a few days."

qualifying a champion to go for the national title at Evansville, Ind., March 9-11.

Wildcats Stop Paint Valley In SVC Action

Laurelville defeated visiting Paint Valley, 88-77, in a Scioto Valley Conference game Tuesday night.

The two teams battled on even terms for three quarters until the Wildcats broke it open with a 31 point effort in the last period.

The score was 20-17 at the end of the first quarter, with Laurelville in front. At halftime both teams had 40 markers and the score was knotted again at 57-57 as the final frame got underway.

Rick Unger hit 10 field goals, seven foul shots for 27 points, and cleared 14 rebounds off the boards to head the Laurelville offense. Steve Hettinger contributed 23 points to the attack.

HIGH MAN for the losers was John Yoakem with 20 markers.

The preliminary tilt was won by Laurelville, 49-41.

The Wildcats host Westfall Friday as they wrap up their cage action before tournament time.

SEPTICEMIA

Q. What causes septicemia?
A. Septicemia is another term for "blood poisoning." Usually when an infection occurs the body acts to wall off the infected area. At the same time the white blood cells actively attack the germs which cause the infection. Septicemia means that the germs have broken through the protective body defenses and have reached the bloodstream.

SWIMMING AND BODY CONDITIONING

Q. Does swimming soften the muscles and thus interfere with conditioning for nonwater sports?
A. No. A well-rounded training program for any sport gives attention to the development of strength, endurance, and agility. To this end, there is widespread acceptance by coaches and trainers that swimming supports other methods of conditioning.

Circleville Youth Baseball Budget for 1966 Approved

The Circleville Youth Baseball Board of Directors last night approved a budget of $4,618.55 for the 1966 program. The largest single item, $2,134.55, is for equipment needs.

Lions Suspend Critical Player

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time in their 31-year history the Detroit Lions have suspended a player.

Veteran end Gail Cogdill was given an indefinite suspension by the National Football League club Tuesday for remarks he reportedly made about the club's head coach, Harry Gilmer, its management and about other players on the team.

At a meeting of the Flint, Mich., Junior Women's Club, Cogdill reportedly said Gilmer "doesn't know how to handle men and he's not ready for a coaching job. If Gilmer comes back at all, he might be the only one who does."

The 6-foot-2, 190 pound end later denied making such statements, but Lions' officials ordered an investigation.

This includes the purchase of several new sets of uniforms. The salary for the program director was set at $800, insurance costs were estimated at $849.

Included in the budget was an outstanding bill of $300 left over from last year for diamond construction. With this included, the total estimated needs for repairs was placed at $550.

THE BOARD approved David LaBounty, Circleville High School physical education instructor, as program director for the summer.

In other business brought before the board, Don Morrison and Ralph Martin of Stoutsville asked an earlier decision not to allow the community to field a team in the Little League Majors be reconsidered.

Last year, Stoutsville fielded the championship team in the Little League Minors.

Morrison said the community wanted to participate in the local program, but because of a transportation problem would like to have its own team.

In reaching its earlier decision, the board felt youngsters from the area wanting to participate should try out for existing teams in the program as local youths do.

Ed Webb, Darrell Courtright, Dick Bowers, Don Strawser and Peck Hines were named to a committee to investigate the Stoutsville situation.

ROBERT WOOD was named chairman of the sponsors committee.

Detroit-to-Cleveland Dribble Is Scheduled

DETROIT (AP) — Eighteen Wayne State University students plan to dribble a basketball to Cleveland so they can be on hand for what they hope is a victory celebration for Coach Joel Mason.

Wayne plays John Carroll University in Cleveland Saturday, and a victory would make Mason the most successful coach in Tartar history. It would be Mason's 183rd victory in 18 years at Wayne.

mittee. Other members are Dick Bowers and Bill Thomas.

The board has accepted a $25 grant from the Pickaway County Youth Memorial Fund. The money will be used to purchase catchers mitts for use in the Mosquito League.

The next meeting of the organization will be 7:30 p. m. Mar. 7 in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Ohio's Senators Split On End to Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, was one of 27 senators signing a petition Tuesday seeking to invoke cloture on debate over the union shop bill. When the Senate refused, 51-48 with two-thirds majority required, to invoke its debate shutoff rule, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, negated Young's "yes" vote with a "no."

Sophomore Terry Wong of Hilo, Hawaii is a member of Army's squash team. Hank Langendorf of Silver City N.M. captains the team.

Ohio Welfare Reorganization Is Anticipated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Reorganization of Ohio's welfare program may bring in more federal dollars to help the state's poor and tighten efficiency to save state funds, Welfare Director Denver L. White says.

The director describes the reorganization law which takes effect July 1 as "one of the greatest things that ever happened to Ohio" and says he anticipates "tangible" results.

White and Gov. James A. Rhodes pushed hard for the legislation enacted by the 106th General Assembly. They said the law will consolidate what up to now has been "isolated, piecemeal" programs into a unified effort that may bring "more realistic benefits" to those in need.

"The whole idea is to get more of the federal funds that are available and to make the welfare dollar go further," White said.

Major changes will involve transfer of Aid to the Aged—only one of the state's five public assistance categories operated at the state level—to the county welfare departments.

An estimated 800 employees, including case workers and clerical help, will be shifted to county departments to bolster their staffs and help eliminate duplication of efforts under the present set up.

Eliminated will be 28 city welfare departments now operating poor relief programs. Their functions will be absorbed by county agencies. Poor relief is the only one of Ohio's five public assistance categories which does not receive federal funds.

The others receive up to 55-60 per cent of their funds from the federal government. Besides Aid to the Aged, they are Aid to the Blind, Aid to the Totally Disabled, and Aid to Dependent Children, including Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC, ADCU).

New financing provisions will encourage county departments to lower poor relief rolls by placing recipients, where possible, from the program paid for entirely by the state into one of the other four categories eligible for federal money.

Counties will have to pay only 10 per cent of the non-federal cost of the four subsidized programs but must bear 25 per cent of the cost of poor relief.

"This will provide more incentive for counties to get able recipients off poor relief and into a federal program such as ADC," assistant welfare director, Robert B. Canary, explained.

Poor relief rolls now account for only 20,000 of the state's 358,000 public assistance recipients but the percentage was seven times that (143,000) in 1963 when the state began a concentrated effort to qualify for more federal funds.

White, who describes the lowering of poor relief as his major goal, said Ohio led the nation in poor relief when he took office.

Today with its 20,000 it ranks third, behind New York's 50,000 and Pennsylvania's 32,000.

The reduction in Ohio's poor relief program resulted primarily with the beginning of Ohio's ADCU program in 1964 under which unemployed parents were made eligible. Under the old ADC program, families could qualify only in the absence of a bread winner.

White and Canary both said "chiseling", or attempts by some to "ride" relief rolls, is a small problem and not a significant drain on welfare resources.

When he became director, White said, he believed Ohio's welfare program was one of "isolation."

"There were no adequate means of communication among various city, state and county departments. There was duplication all over the place," he said.

The director said one of his first moves was to set up regional offices in six Ohio cities and to name directors for them. They work with local departments, answering questions and taking care of other matters that previously had to be handled in Columbus.

"Before we did this, we were swamped here at the main office with hundreds of calls every day. We felt money was being wasted. What we have tried to do is get the most out of the welfare dollar."

DAVID D. TIMMONS

An appointment in works engineering was announced today by officials at Du Pont's Circleville film plant.

Assigned as a foreman in the section was David D. Timmons, Chillicothe. He joined Du Pont in 1956 as a maintenance mechanic.

A graduate of Centralia High School in Ross County, he served four years in the U. S. Navy.

High Court Receives Appeals for 3 Boys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court received appeals Tuesday on behalf of three Cleveland youths convicted in a June 12, 1963, playground attack on a boy and his 15-year-old girl friend in Cleveland.

The appeal alleges Robert Gould, Charles Clark and Jerome Martin went three days in solitary confinement, denied visits by parents or social workers, before signing confessions. They were sentenced to Mansfield Reformatory on charges including raping the girl and stabbing the boy with intent to kill.

SAFETY HINTS FOR ice fishing

BE CAREFUL AFTER A HEAVY SNOWFALL. YOU MAY NOT SEE A HOLE WHICH HAS BEEN SNOWED OVER.

DON'T GO TOO FAR OUT.

IF SOMEONE FALLS IN, DON'T JUST RUSH UP OR ICE MAY CRACK UNDER YOU. TOSS HIM A ROPE OR LOG OR POLE.

IF YOU'RE DRIVING OUT ON THE ICE, KEEP THE CAR WINDOWS OPEN. DON'T STAY OUT TOO LONG. YOU MAY WIND UP FROSTBITTEN.

LOCATE YOURSELF WHEN YOU LEAVE THE SHORE SO YOU CAN FIND YOUR WAY BACK.

CARRY A FLASHLIGHT OR OTHER DISTRESS SIGNALS.

AVOID LOGS AND FROZEN STUMPS IN ICE.

How Weather Looks Today

CENTRAL OHIO — Warmer, showers tonight, low 45. Thursday mostly cloudy and warmer, high near 60.

NORTHWEST, NORTHEAST, EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy skies and scattered showers tonight and variable cloudiness Thursday. Windy and continued unseasonably warm through Thursday.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Showers and mild, low in 50s tonight. Variable cloudiness and mild, chance of showers Thursday.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Variable cloudiness and warmer through Thursday. Possible showers tonight. Low tonight mid 40s, high Tuesday 58-62.

LAKE ERIE — Advisory gale warnings. South to southeast winds 30-40 knots tonight. Cloudy with considerable fog and occasional showers.

A FALLING OUT among thieves is occurring, you might say, as Cuban Premier Fidel Castro (above) denounces Red China for "betraying" Cuba with the "economic aggression" of renegeing on a sugar-for-rice trade deal. He said Red China has "added to the ... Yankee blockade against Cuba."

Vermont Legislative Proposal Woos Skiers

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — A bill before the Vermont House would appropriate $50,000 to encourage topflight skiers to attend Vermont colleges.

The bill called it "in the public interest of the state that talented young skiers be encouraged and assisted" to attend Vermont schools and represent them in national and international skiing events.

Since Daniel Boone's time, Appalachian Mountain craftsmen have produced articles of wood, clay, cloth and metal.

Prosecutor Says Mossler Trial Is 'Nasty Case'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Blondest Candace Mossler, her patience waning, faces a new ordeal today. The state will be spotlighting what it says is the motive for the murder of her multimillionaire husband — an illicit affair with her nephew.

"It's a mean, nasty case, your honor," State Atty. Richard Gerstein told circuit Judge George Schulz with a visible air of resignation Tuesday after a day of turbulent, legal infighting.

Today could prove to be even more trying than Tuesday's session, which ended with Mrs. Mossler shaking her head and hissing "liar" at state witnesses.

The state declined to pin itself down on today's witness lineup. But on call were residents of Houston, Tex. The attractive Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 39, sprang to social prominence there with the help of her slain husband's $33-million banking and loan empire.

Mrs. Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, are charged with slaying her 69-year-old husband, Jacques.

Time and again, Judge Schulz sent the all-male jury out of the courtroom while he patiently smoothed out roaring legal clashes between the state and the defense.

It was almost anticlimactic when state testimony ended with the soft voice of Miss Cleo Consuegra, 21, who used her maiden name although now married. A bad check charge placed her in the Dade County jail last August when Mrs. Mossler became a temporary inmate, before gaining release in $50,000 bail.

"I was her bunkmate. I had a bunk over her," said Miss Consuegra, a tall, black-haired woman.

"We talked a lot," she testified. "First she told me that her husband was a homosexual."

The defense contends Mossler could have been bludgeoned and beaten to death by fellow inmates of a weird sexual underworld.

"At first," Miss Consuegra continued, "Mrs. Mossler said Powers hadn't been in Miami (at the time of the Mossler slaying), then she said he was in Miami. I asked her why she changed. She said he wasn't a member of the family and she didn't want him brought into this. I asked her where he was on the night of the murder, and she said she guessed he was having a drink."

Mrs. Mossler shook her head and called "Liar" at Miss Consuegra's testimony. But the blonde defendant had been far more vocal earlier in the day. An articulate convict had testified she had given him a $7,000 downpayment in 1962 to kill her husband.

"I have never seen or heard of this man," Mrs. Mossler cried in a voice audible through most of the courtroom.

The witness was Billy Frank Mulvey, 35, who insisted he was a thief but never a burglar.

By contrast, Powers never flinched when Mulvey testified, with prison jargon and cell block cynicism, that Powers admitted to him the stabbing of Mossler.

Mulvey said he was propelled into the Mossler case by a long arm of coincidence thrust from the death row of Texas State Penitentiary by a double murderer, Howard Stickney, who died in the electric chair in May 1962.

Mulvey testified that, as an old friend of Stickney, he went looking between prison terms for Mrs. Mossler, because he had some letters from her from Stickney's death cell.

Mulvey did not outline the nature of the letters. On cross-examination, it was suggested that Mrs. Mossler, and another Houston woman, had interested themselves in Stickney's case because they felt he was not receiving full justice.

"I felt the evidence was improper," Mrs. Mossler told newsmen out of court. Mulvey said he finally caught up with Mrs. Mossler and gave her the letters and she subsequently asked him to "make a hit," that is to kill her husband.

He was the third state witness to testify that Mrs. Mossler or Powers or both had solicited a kill-for-hire disposal of Mossler.

Mulvey testified that Mrs. Mossler gave him $7,000 in an envelope as a downpayment. He wanted $25,000, he said, so he stalled Mrs. Mossler off, spent the money, and never saw her again.

Then, Mulvey, now serving the tail end of a five-year thievish sentence, detailed the coincidence that he said brought him into the Dade County courthouse on this mild Florida day.

He testified that he found himself in the Harris County jail in Houston at the time Powers was first arrested, in July 1964, in the Jacques Mossler murder.

"I got to talking to him," Mulvey went on, "and I told him I knew Candace Mossler — then he told me he killed Jacques Mossler."

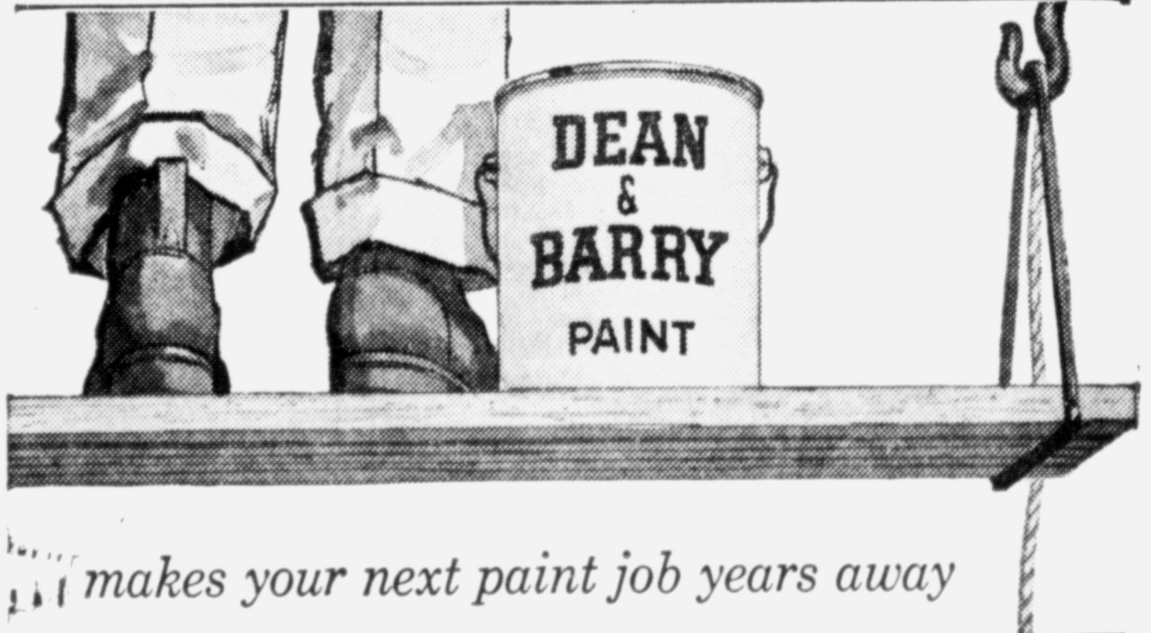

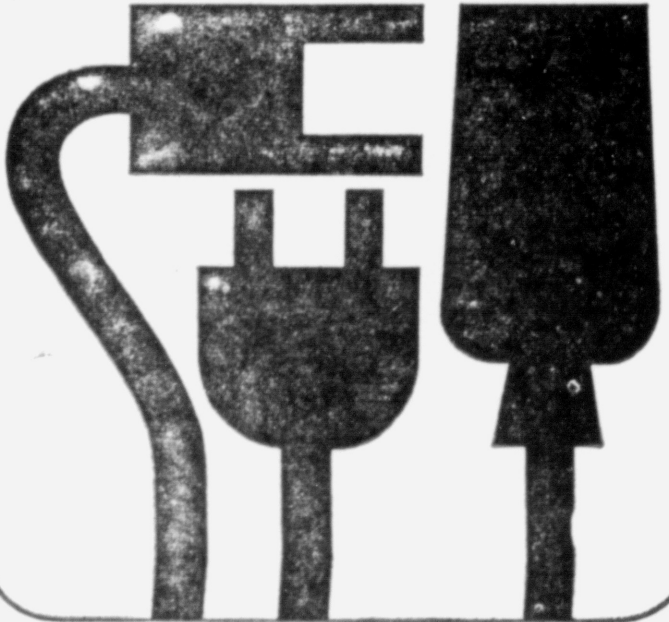

"He didn't tell me nothing about how he killed him except he stabbed him. I didn't ask. I've got my own troubles."

Cincy-Cleveland Worker Shortage Is Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cleveland and Cincinnati were among cities discussed Tuesday concerning what Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told the Senate-House Economic Committee is a manpower shortage in the Great Lakes area.

Arthur M. Ross, Bureau of Labor Statistics commissioner, testified that Cleveland with 2.8 per cent unemployment is experiencing backlogs of orders and longer delivery schedules. Shortages of workers in Cincinnati, Ross said, have begun to impede production in machine tool, metal fabricating and aircraft industries there. He said Cincinnati unemployment rate was at 3.2 per cent.

Bowling Green '5' Gains Strength

BOWLING GREEN, O. (AP) —Yes Virginia, a team can get its brains beat out early in the season and then come back and play good basketball.

Bowling Green proved it.

The Falcons got off on the right foot with a 91-74 victory over Ball State but what followed was like a nightmare.

Michigan, Michigan State, St. Joseph's (Pa.), Syracuse, Notre Dame, Oklahoma City and Wyoming administered seven straight lacerations, the worst of which was a 98-55 bombing by St. Joe.

Bowling Green's bedraggled forces finally mustered enough strength to break the horrible string with an 85-72 decision over Texas A&M.

Third-year Coach Warren Scholler shakes his head in almost disbelief when he thinks sort of a growing up process for them," Scholler said.

"We lost so many at the start of the year because you can't beat veteran teams like Michigan and St. Joseph's with sophomores," Scholler said.

But those lacerations had some good points for the young Falcons, who count three sophomores in their starting lineup.

"We are coming along now mainly because we are using sophs in key spots and it was

The Falcons appear to have jelled and have won six of their last nine outings. Two of the setbacks were heartbreakers—a 65-63 decision to Mid-American Conference leader Miami and a 95-87 double overtime loss to Ohio University last Saturday.

Bowling Green, 4-3 in the league, probably won't catch Miami, 7-1, but the picture looks bright for next season.

The sophs who have suddenly blossomed are 6-foot 8 Walt Piatkowski, 6-9 center Al Dixon and Rich Hendrix.

Piatkowski, averaging 18.1 points a game, hit 44 in the conference's best individual performance against Marshall. Dixon, pulling down 14.9 rebounds a game, leads the league in that department. And Hendrix has averaged 13.7 a contest.

Scholler is still shaken by the miserable start but says if the Falcons continue their fine team play the season could wind up a success.

NEW YORK (AP) — With Viet Nam, Honolulu, Washington, and New Delhi all producing news of war and peace, NBC and CBS dropped regularly scheduled programs Tuesday night to try to sort out the tangled web of opinions, statements and hearsay.

NBC's half-hour special which pre-empted "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," primarily was devoted to summaries of news out of the Honolulu conference between President Johnson and leaders of the South Vietnamese government.

There was also an interview with Secretary of State Dean Rusk explaining once again this nation's interest in social reforms in that war-torn country. Then it moved to Washington for highlights from testimony by retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin before the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

The CBS news special, a last-minute substitute for a documentary on Midwestern teenagers, was a more leisurely and introspective survey. Considerable time was given to the questioning of Gavin and to his answers. There were filmed interviews with Secretaries Dean Rusk and Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor made in Honolulu Monday night. Gen. Taylor's and McNamara's comments on Gavin's so-called "enclave plan" seemed a bit out of focus in light of Gavin's own explanations Tuesday before the committee.

Moderator Walter Cronkite drew from correspondents Marvin Kalb and Peter Kalischer their own opinions of the events they had covered in Honolulu.

Commentator Eric Sevareid suggested that the Senate hearings were particularly important because they were raising questions, not only about the conduct of the war, "but formally and officially raising doubts about its justification, its legality and its ultimate outcome."

Although Cronkite noted the "somewhat bewildering" assortment of problems covered in the hour, it was a helpful one, particularly when thoughtful men like Kalb and Sevareid were taking a long view of the events.

Recommended tonight: "A Small Rebellion," NBC, 9-10 EST, drama on Bob Hope theater with Simone Signoret and George Maharis.

about where the Braves will play in 1966.

A ruling by Fulton Superior Court Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie Tuesday "ends for all time, so far as Atlanta and the Southeast are concerned, any questions about the future of the Atlanta Braves," Allen said.

McKenzie ordered the Braves to disregard a Wisconsin court order and comply with a 25-year contract which calls for them to play their home games in Atlanta.

"From here on, the success of the Braves and the success of Atlanta and the Southeast as a showplace for major league baseball is up to the people of Atlanta and Georgia," Allen said.

"I want the sports writers in Milwaukee and Chicago and New York who have been crying about the Milwaukee fans — who let the Braves down except when they won pennants — to come down here to our town and see real baseball fans cheering a real baseball team, season after season, never deserting them, win or lose," Allen said.

Wisconsin officials, contending that the Braves and the National League violated the state's antitrust laws, have filed suit against the team. A Wisconsin court last month ordered the Braves to prepare to play their games in Milwaukee in 1966.

McKenzie, in his ruling in Georgia Superior Court, said he was reluctant to pass an order "which might conflict with an order of a court of another sovereign state."

"This judicial reluctance cannot, however, justify this court's shirking, however distasteful, a duty imposed," Judge McKenzie said, and added that the Braves' contract with Atlanta is a "valid, binding, legal contract" regardless of court action taken in Wisconsin.

Tiger Matmen
Drop Meet
At Lancaster

The Circleville wrestling team dropped a 28-18 decision to the host school Lancaster Gales yesterday afternoon.

It was the last meet for the Tigers until Feb. 19 when they travel to Wilmington.

"We just aren't getting the help from the lower weight classes we need," Dave LaBounty commented.

The Tigers lost the first class, battled to draws in the next two but won the 128 pound class as Craig Benzenberg decided Dan Bresler, 4-2.

Wilmington has a 6-3 dual meet record.

Kent Seeks To Salvage
Its Prestige

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kent State, out of the Mid-American Conference basketball running which moves into its crucial stages this week, tried to salvage some outside prestige Tuesday night but withered before a 63-point Penn State second half and lost to the Nittany Lions 94-72.

Otterbein, very much in the Ohio Conference title picture, belted league foe Marietta 70-57.

In the MAC, Ohio University visits Miami and Toledo invades Western Michigan tonight, then the teams swap opponents Saturday. Miami is 7-1 and runner-up Toledo 4-1 heading into the latter portion of their 12-game MAC round robins.

In the Ohio Conference, Otterbein now is 9-3 with two games left and awaits the outcome of tonight's Wooster (10-2) at Mount Union (7-2) and Oberlin at Akron (8-2) tussles which will shuffle the top three.

In other Ohio college activity Tuesday night, Wittenberg beat Capital 78-65 in the OC, Al Knott's layup gave Cedarville a 56-55 nod over Ashland in the Mid-Ohio Conference, John Carroll was victimized by Presidents' Conference leader Bethany 93-77, and Malone ripped Fort Wayne Bible 101-78.

Akron Slated To Host Regional NCAA Test

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The NCAA College Division Midwest Regional basketball tournament will be staged here again this year, it was announced in Kansas City Tuesday. The University of Akron and the Ohio Conference will be co-hosts for the four-team competition March 4-5.

Wildcat-Mustang
Battle Caps Cage
Action in County

The big basketball game this week for Pickaway County Schools is Friday at Laurelville where Westfall continues its battle for the Scioto Valley Conference crown.

Other action Friday finds Teays Valley hosting Hamilton Twp. in South Suburban League action and Huntington Twp. playing at Logan Elm in a non-league tilt.

Westfall currently owns a 3-0 record in the SVC, having beaten Paint Valley, Unioto and Logan Elm.

The Westfall-Piketon basketball game originally scheduled Feb. 18, has been postponed until Feb. 21, it was announced today by Judson Lanman, Westfall executive head. The reserve tilt will start at 6:30 p. m.

The change was made after Westfall was paired with Columbus St. Mary in the sectional Tournament 2:30 p. m. Feb. 19.

A game scheduled Feb. 19 with Hamilton Twp. has definitely been cancelled, Lanman said.

A win against the unpredictable Wildcats can assure the Mustangs of a share of the title and give them the inside track to win it all. Only Piketon, winless in 14 starts this season, will remain on the schedule.

NEIL COLEMAN, veteran forward for Westfall, is the most potent weapon on the Larry Wilson coached team.

He is averaging 18 points and 14 rebounds per game. Backing Coleman up are Tom Hamman, Brad Thompson, Tom Scribner, Tom Beard and Ray Mowery. All are seniors.

Laurelville's Rick Unger paces the sometimes explosive, sometimes mediocre Wildcat team.

With losses to Logan Elm and Unioto putting the Wildcats out of contention in the SVC, they can play only a spoiler role. Laurelville has beaten Piketon and Paint Valley.

Also participating in the Vinton-Hocking League, the Wildcats capped a perfect mark in the loop last week by defeating Hamden.

The only other team in the SVC with a chance for the crown is Logan Elm. Keith Merrin's Braves have completed the league schedule with a 4-1 record, and can only wait for an upset in order to gain a share.

THE BRAVES have a pair of games coming up that will put their ability to the test.

Huntington Twp. defeated Logan Elm in the Zane Trace Holiday tournament by a 56-48 count. The Braves will have the home court advantage this time.

And since the holiday encounter Merrin has juggled his starting lineup to a certain extent, switching Darryl Reichelderfer from his familiar pivot post to forward.

Don Schaaf has moved into the pivot. And with the change, has come a change in Reichelderfer's scoring. In the last two games he has hit a total of 24 points.

Huntington is one of two teams that has defeated highly touted Chillicothe Bishop Flaget, Logan Elm's Saturday foe.

Teays Valley should have little difficulty in defeating Hamilton Twp. as the Vikings are shooting for second place in the SSL.

The Teays Valley balanced offense guided by playmaker Butch Kinsell is improving. Coach Russ Gregg feels his team could well be a contender in the Class AA Central District Tournament, with a little luck.

In SVC Action

Laurelville defeated visiting Paint Valley, 88-77, in a Scioto Valley Conference game Tuesday night.

The two teams battled on even terms for three quarters until the Wildcats broke it open with a 31 point effort in the last period.

The score was 20-17 at the end of the first quarter, with Laurelville in front. At halftime both teams had 40 markers and the score was knotted again at 57-57 as the final frame got underway.

Rick Unger hit 10 field goals, seven foul shots for 27 points, and cleared 14 rebounds off the boards to head the Laurelville offense. Steve Hettinger contributed 23 points to the attack.

HIGH MAN for the losers was John Yoakem with 20 markers.

Laurelville hit 66 per cent of their foul shot tries, and 43 per cent of their field goal attempts.

The preliminary tilt was won by Laurelville, 49-41.

The Wildcats host Westfall Friday as they wrap up their cage action before tournament time.

Circleville Youth Baseball Budget for 1966 Approved

The Circleville Youth Baseball Board of Directors last night approved a budget of $4,618.55 for the 1966 program. The largest single item, $2,134.55, is for equipment needs. This includes the purchase of several new sets of uniforms.

The salary for the program director was set at $800. Insurance costs were estimated at $849.

Included in the budget was an outstanding bill of $300 left over from last year for diamond construction. With this included, the total estimated needs for repairs was placed at $550.

THE BOARD approved David LaBounty, Circleville High School physical education instructor, as program director for the summer.

In other business brought before the board, Don Morrison and Ralph Martin of Stoutsville asked an earlier decision not to allow the community to field a team in the Little League Majors be reconsidered.

Last year, Stoutsville fielded the championship team in the Little League Minors.

Morrison said the community wanted to participate in the local program, but because of a transportation problem would like to have its own team.

In reaching its earlier decision, the board felt youngsters from the area wanting to participate should try out for existing teams in the program as local youths do.

Ed Webb, Darrell Courtright, Dick Bowers, Don Strawser and Peck Hines were named to a committee to investigate the Stoutsville situation.

ROBERT WOOD was named chairman of the sponsors committee. Other members are Dick Bowers and Bill Thomas.

The board has accepted a $25 grant from the Pickaway County Youth Memorial Fund. The money will be used to purchase catchers mitts for use in the Mosquito League.

The next meeting of the organization will be 7:30 p. m. Mar. 7 in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Ohio's Senators Split On End to Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, was one of 27 senators signing a petition Tuesday seeking to invoke cloture on debate over the union shop bill. When the Senate refused, 51-48 with two-thirds majority required, to invoke its debate shutoff rule, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, negated Young's "yes" vote with a "no."

News of World in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission meets Thursday to debate the future of community antenna television.

The FCC last year asserted jurisdiction over all CATV systems that use microwave relay systems to pass television signals from distant stations to community antennae.

The commission must decide now whether to extend that jurisdiction to all of the nation's 1,600 CATV systems, including those that use microwave relay or merely erect an antenna to pull down available television signals and then relay them by cable into the homes of fee-paying subscribers.

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors made a major move in the auto safety field today when it announced that two safety features, a collapsible steering column and dual brakes, would be standard equipment on all its 1967 model passenger cars.

GM gave no indication whether the cost of the items would be reflected in increased prices for its cars. Traditionally, auto firms do not disclose new car prices until model announcement time.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Labor leaders have postponed until Monday a 48-hour walkout called at the Anaconda copper mines and smelters in support of a five-week-old strike at the Kennecott Company's huge El Teniente mine southeast of Santiago.

President Eduardo Frei had appealed to the 17,000-member Copper Workers' Union to delay the walkout at Anaconda while the government pressed for a settlement of the strike against the other U. S. company.

Union leaders agreed Tuesday night but said the walkout would go on if the strike is not settled by Monday. The support walkout had been scheduled to start at midnight Tuesday.

Anaconda and Kennecott produce more than 90 per cent of the copper mined in Chile. The Kennecott strike for higher wages has cost Chile an estimated $55 million in lost production.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Members of Kenya's Parliament warned Tuesday night that the purchase of a $28,000 Rolls Royce for the mayor of Nairobi was the sort of extravagance that could sow the seed of revolution.

One MP cited the murder of Nigeria's finance minister in the recent military coup as an example of what could happen to those who indulged in such extravagance.

To a man, speakers in the angry 30-minute debate condemned the City Council's purchase of the Rolls and demanded that the car be sent back to the makers.

Nairobi's mayor, Alderman Charles Rubia, called a meeting of the council to consider the matter.

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — A Congolese military court has sentenced 15 minor government officials to prison terms ranging from 4 to 10 years for pocketing $200,000 in public funds.

The officials were accused of embezzling the money over a three-month period while allocating funds in the Bureau of Budget Control and Verification.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Authorities today were evacuating the Quetta area of West Pakistan after two more earthquakes which killed at least 11 persons and injured 40.

Masood Murti, a district official, said broken communications made it difficult to assess the casualties or damage in the area 370 miles north of Karachi.

When the quakes began Monday, 73 villages were reported hit and five women buried beneath the heaving earth.

Biological College at OSU Is Requested

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State University trustees are being asked to create the institution's first new college since 1916—a College of Biological Sciences.

Establishment of what would be OSU's 11th college was recommended by the Faculty Council Tuesday.

The colleges are the major units of organization for educational administration, each headed by a dean. Present ones are Arts and Sciences, Commerce and Administration, Agriculture and Home Economics, Medicine, Dentistry, Engineering, Pharmacy, Law, Veterinary Medicine, and Education.

The trustees are expected to receive the proposal at their March or April meeting, after the university's Committee on Rules has drafted necessary rule amendments.

The plan as proposed would transfer 146 faculty members to the College of Biological sciences.

$200,000 Church Fund Said Diverted

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A suit filed here by the bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus, Ohio, alleges diversion of more than $200,000 in church assets.

The suit filed in Circuit Court on behalf of Bishop John J. Carberry names as defendants Joseph Gibson Foley, identified as the brother of the late Rev. George H. Foley, pastor of a Columbus church, and two Miami firms.

The suit contends some assets of the Columbus church were invested with the stock brokerage firm of Francis I. du Pont, of which Joseph Foley was a sales representative, and alleges that Joseph Foley withdrew $25,000 from the church accounts in 1963 and 1964. In 1965, the suit alleges, Joseph Foley caused du Pont to issue drafts for the balance, in excess of $175,000.

Rhodes Lists Gains of His Regime

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, in what he termed an "up-to-the minute, compact condition of the state report," has furnished Republican candidates an itemized magazine of ammunition for their 1968 campaigns in Ohio.

Rhodes declared: "We inherited a bankrupt state; we were being sued for unpaid bills; the teachers retirement system was in default; the Liquor Department was defunct; the Welfare Department was $14 million in the red; state-owned institutions were crumbling; fewer people had jobs in January 1963 than in 1957."

"We had the highest number of people on relief of any state. This is what we did about it in three years: balanced the budget. Paid off all our bills. Laid off 4,000 unnecessary employees. Saved $30 million through Little Hoover Commission recommendations. Had a $17 million surplus in the general fund without increasing taxes."

Rhodes went on to detail what he called the accomplishments including improvements in education, mental health, natural resources, highways and industrial development.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 9, the 40th day of 1966. There are 325 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1799, Capt. Thomas Truxtun, commanding the new American frigate Constellation, bore down on the French Insurgente, called the fastest ship in the French navy. Truxtun poured on a full broadside of 24 heavy guns at once; soon the tri-color was pulled down — the new American ship had proved itself the best.

In 1773, William Henry Harrison, the ninth president, was born.

In 1861, Jefferson Davis was elected provisional president of the Confederate States of America.

In 1874, American poet Amy Lowell was born.

In 1942, the French liner Normandie burned and capsized at a New York pier while being prepared for wartime service as the USS Lafayette.

In 1945, American troops crossed the Pasig River to clean out Japanese holding the old walled section of Manila.

Ten years ago — Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sought a federal court order directing the University of Alabama to reinstate Autherine Lucy.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy proposed a federal health insurance program to provide medical care for the aged.

One year ago — A Communist student mob stormed the U.S. Embassy in Moscow in protest against American Viet Nam policy.

Bowling Green '5' Gains Strength

BOWLING GREEN, O. (AP)—Yes Virginia, a team can get its brains beat out early in the season and then come back and play good basketball.

Bowling Green proved it.

The Falcons got off on the right foot with a 91-74 victory over Ball State but what followed was like a nightmare.

Michigan, Michigan State, St. Joseph's (Pa.), Syracuse, Notre Dame, Oklahoma City and Wyoming administered seven straight lacings, the worst of which was a 98-55 bombing by St. Joe.

Bowling Green's bedraggled forces finally mustered enough strength to break the horrible string with an 85-72 decision over Texas A&M.

Third-year Coach Warren Scholler shakes his head in almost disbelief when he thinks sort of a growing up process for them," Scholler said.

about those early weeks.

"We lost so many at the start of the year because you can't beat veteran teams like Michigan and St. Joseph's with sophomores," Scholler said.

But those licks had some good points for the young Falcons, who count three sophomores in their starting lineup.

"We are coming along now mainly because we are using sophs in key spots and it was

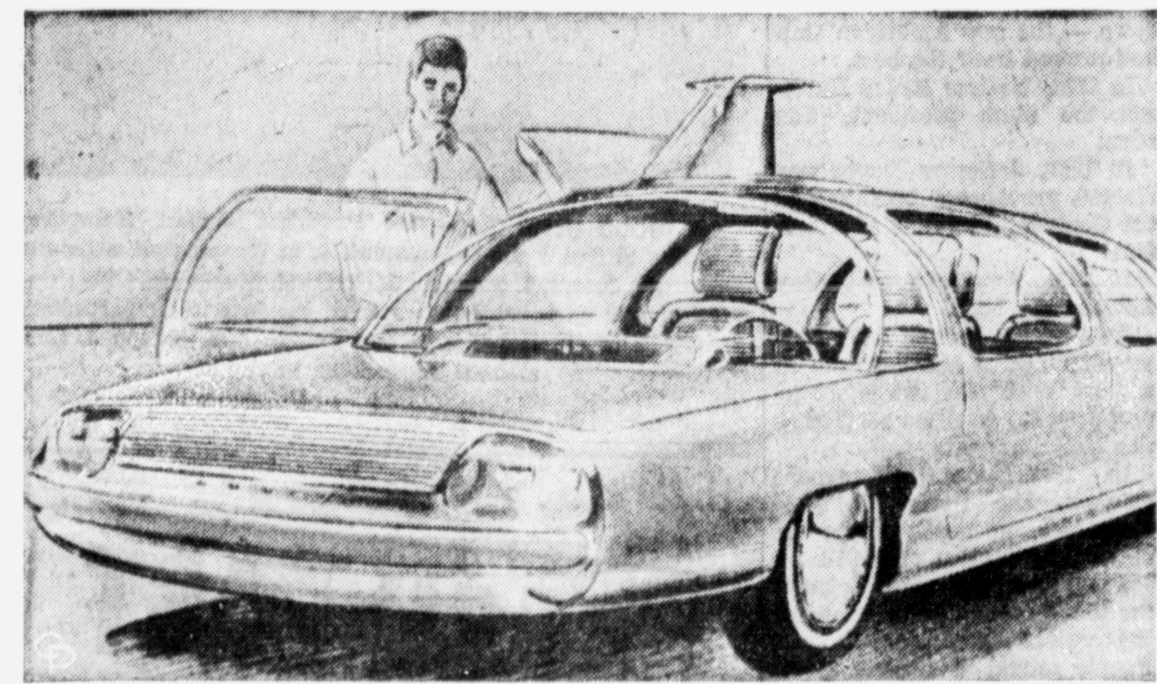

The Falcons appear to have jelled and have won six of their last nine outings. Two of the setbacks were heartbreakers—a 65-63 decision to Mid-American Conference leader Miami and a 95-87 double overtime loss to Ohio University last Saturday.

Bowling Green, 4-3 in the league, probably won't catch Miami, 7-1, but the picture looks bright for next season.

The sophs who have suddenly blossomed are 6-foot 8 Walt Piatkowski, 6-9 center Al Dixon and Rich Hendrix.

Piatkowski, averaging 18.1 points a game, hit 44 in the conference's best individual performance against Marshall. Dixon, pulling down 14.9 rebounds a game, leads the league in that department. And Hendrix has averaged 13.7 a contest.

Scholler is still shaken by the miserable start but says if the Falcons continue their fine team play the season could wind up a success.

SAFETY CAR—This auto, designed by Republic Aviation for New York State, has such safety features as roll bars, periscope for better vision, contour seats, and a front end which will collapse on impact. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., says there will be enough funds in President Johnson's safety program for development of such a car.

Basketball Market Has Active Night

Wheatshockers Up, Cornhuskers Down, Rice Is Unchanged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was an active night on the basketball market.

The Wheatshockers went up, the Cornhuskers went down and Rice was unchanged.

Wichita's Wheatshockers, nearly invincible at home, made a shambles of Chicago Loyola's No. 3 ranking by beating the Ramblers 92-84. It was the 11th straight victory at home for the Shocks who have won 31 of the last 32 regular season games in Wichita and 59 of 63 in the last five seasons.

Nebraska's ninth-ranked dropped an 85-81 overtime decision at Oklahoma City when the Chiefs' Jerry Lee Wells scored two baskets in the final three seconds of the extra period.

It was the same old story for Rice at Houston. The Owls hung on against Arkansas until the final three minutes when the Razorbacks pulled away for a 76-71 victory — Rice's 26th consecutive loss.

In Syracuse, the Orangemen romped past Cornell 100-85 with Dave Bing doing most of the damage. Bing, a 6-foot-3 senior, scored 39 points and had 25 rebounds and eight assists as Syracuse ran its record to 14-3.

In other major games, Detroit's Dorie Murray led the Titans past touring St. Bonaventure 80-84. Boston College started slowly but broke away to a 101-80 victory over Massachusetts and Georgetown barely made it past Rutgers 76-73 in overtime.

Elsewhere, Utah walloped New Mexico State 131-94. Penn State scored 63 points in the second half and whipped Kent State 94-72. Georgia Tech hit 66 per cent of its first-half shots and rolled past Furman 110-68 and Texas edged Texas Christian 77-75.

Wichita got 25 points and 18 rebounds from Warren Armstrong and ended Chicago Loyola's winning streak at 14 games. Kelly Pete hit 19 for the Shocks, defending Missouri Valley conference champs, who now are 11-6.

Corky Bell had 26 points and Billy Smith 25 for the Ramblers,

Atlanta Cheers as Court Orders Braves To Play

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Mayor Ivan Allen says Georgians are ready to prove that "the Braves' move to Atlanta was the best thing that has happened to baseball since Ty Cobb."

Wisconsin officials fighting the National League baseball team's transfer out of Milwaukee undoubtedly disagree with the Atlanta mayor who says he no longer has any questions about where the Braves will play in 1966.

A ruling by Fulton Superior Court Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie Tuesday "ends for all time, so far as Atlanta and the Southeast are concerned, any questions about the future of the Atlanta Braves," Allen said.

McKenzie ordered the Braves to disregard a Wisconsin court order and comply with a 25-year contract which calls for them to play their home games in Atlanta.

"From here on, the success of the Braves and the success of Atlanta and the Southeast as a showplace for major league baseball is up to the people of Atlanta and Georgia," Allen said.

"I want the sports writers in Milwaukee and Chicago and New York who have been crying about the Milwaukee fans — who let the Braves down except when they won pennants — to come down here to our town and see real baseball fans cheering a real baseball team, season after season, never deserting them, win or lose," Allen said.

Wisconsin officials, contending that the Braves and the National League violated the state's antitrust laws, have filed suit against the team. A Wisconsin court last month ordered the Braves to prepare to play their games in Milwaukee in 1966.

McKenzie, in his ruling in Georgia Superior Court, said he was reluctant to pass an order "which might conflict with an order of a court of another sovereign state."

"This judicial reluctance cannot, however, justify this court's shirking, however distasteful, a duty imposed," Judge McKenzie said, and added that the Braves' contract with Atlanta is a "valid, binding, legal contract" regardless of court action taken in Wisconsin.

who suffered their second loss in 18 starts. The other setback came against Oklahoma City, which spent Tuesday hounding and finally beating Nebraska.

The Chiefs tied the score on Gary Gray's 30-footer with regulation time running out. But Nebraska opened a four-point bulge in the extra session before Wells rallied Oklahoma City.

The Cornhuskers held a 81-77 bulge but Wells hit from the side and Jim Ware, the country's leading rebounder, scored two foul shots for the tie.

Then Wells, who finished with 27 points, grabbed a jump ball and put Oklahoma City ahead 83-81 with three seconds remaining. He hit again after Nebraska lost the ball on the pass in.
